This is the court index book (for actual court use) but no actual papers copied (microfilm by LDS) as in Plymouth County.

As this indicates, Madsen was a rather common name in Woodbury County. However, Hans was the only Madsen naturalized in Plymouth County in that period in time. O'Brien County search yielded nothing. Hansens were 75% from Germany in 3 county area, I presume, with no factual foundation, that they were mostly from around Schlesswig-Holstein because that had recently been Danish or near there

The whole query and answer as given in issue number 61 follow so that those who may be picking up Heritage Quest for the first time can see what a wise choice they've made!

QUES: I've been stuck for a new idea on my Johanson family for some years. I hope you can help. I've checked the obvious sources like the IGI, a history of the area, newspapers, censuses. I've found Caspar Johansen's naturalization papers. I've found his death certificate and corresponded with the mortuary. I've corresponded with descendants of Caspar's children. None of these sources gave a clue where in Denmark or northern Germany my ancestors come from.

J. Larson, Scottsdale, AZ

ANS: You have checked some good sources. Let me add a few more to your list. Caspar may have emigrated through either the ports of Copenhagen, Denmark, or, Hamburg, Germany. If he could be found on either one of those port's passenger lists, it should list the place in Denmark or Germany where he at least last resided. If he emigrated out of Copenhagen, we're coming in just under the wire in terms of a source, since those lists begin in exactly 1869, the year you indicate Caspar emigrated!

Film numbers for the Copenhagen passenger lists will be found in the Locality section of the Family History Library Catalog™ under "Denmark - Emigration and Immigration." They are arranged chronologically, and alphabetically to the first letter of the surname. That means all the "A's" are together, all the "J's", and so forth, but they are not strictly alphabetical within that letter. Each family member may or may not be listed. Also, you need to be aware, if Caspar came first, and then sent for the rest of the family, even later in that same year, or another year, the wife and possibly children will be listed alphabetically under her maiden name. In other words, don't forget to look under "S"!

There are two parts to these passenger lists. One is called the "Direct" list, the other the "Indirect" list. When you went "direct", you left Copenhagen and didn't stop until you reached your point of destination in the U.S., Canada, South America, or wherever your ship was headed. "Indirect" means you left Copenhagen, then maybe stopped in at Liverpool, Glasgow, Queenstown, Ireland, or at least one other port before reaching your final destination. Both lists need to be checked.

The Hamburg lists are arranged much the same way, but, the indexes are separate from the actual list after 1855. Again, there is a "direct" list and index, and an "indirect" list and index. They are chronological and alphabetical to the first letter of the surname, but not strictly alphabetical within that letter. Additionally, if there are more of that lettered surname than pages allowed for, the rest of the "As" or "Js" and so forth may be written elsewhere in the index, behind the "X" section or some similar place. In any of these indexes, if you're searching, get to the end of an alphabet letter, and the time period which should be covered is not, look for a "continued" (in the native language equivalent), and another page number or letter of the alphabet under which the rest of "your" letter will be found.

When you find the person in the index, a page number will be given to the right hand side. Write that number down, then move up the page or to the page before until you find something that looks like the following:

That represents the number that ship is leaving port that year, the date (day/month) it left, the name of the ship, the name of the captain, and the port of destination. Once in a great while, the page number entry found in the index that pertains to your ancestor is incorrect. However, if you have the above information, you know you'll still find him/her by doing a page by page through the actual ship's list for that day, since all the entries between that date and the next one down the page in the index refer to people only on the ship above!

The film numbers to the Hamburg Indexes and lists can be found by looking in the Family History Library Locality Catalog under "Germany - Emigration and Immigration."

If you don't find the Caspar Johansen and his family on the ships lists of the above ports, there are still more research options. Find the marriage license application of the three daughters who were born in Denmark, but appear to be married in Wisconsin. Wisconsin marriage license applications for the time period you are searching are generally better than most for recording exact birth places on the form. But, be aware of the following: On each book page of the actual marriage license application form, there was room for 3 groom/bride entries across the page. A stamped or printed page number was only in the upper left and/or right hand corner of the page. When you find your person in the index to the marriages for that county, you will find that stamped/printed page number listed. When you go to the actual marriages, you may think you need new glasses because you can't easily find that page number! The reason is this: When the actual marriage books were filmed, a blank sample form of the questions asked for both the bride and groom was placed to the left hand side of each of the three entries, then each entry was filmed as if it were it's own page. You have to search/turn at least three entries or frames until you find that printed or stamped page number referred to in the index, and then you'll know you're in the right spot to find your entry.

If no more exact place of birth is listed for your ancestor or siblings than "Denmark," in this marriage application, check the bottom of that marriage license to see if they were married by a minister. If so, it will normally list which congregation that person was affiliated with. Then, locate and search those church records for the "church marriage" of the couple, as well as the "membership lists" of that congregation. As previously indicated, ministers of Lutheran congregations here, especially if they were trained in the "old country" and sent over here to preach, kept their books they way they did there. That is, in the "membership lists" or lists of those who had joined the congregation, the minister should have listed where in the old country they came from.

If that doesn't help, search those same church records, and/or any others in the areas the family may have lived for the confirmation of the two younger girls. This ordinance could have taken place between ages twelve and eighteen for Danes. Before a person could be confirmed or take first communion, they had to prove they had been baptized. It may be noted in the confirmation record that "Anna" was infant baptized in "__________, Denmark."

Find not only the death certificates, but also the death/burial entries in church records for all possible parties.

If the above searches do not give a more exact birthplace than "Denmark", search the birth records of all the children born here. It sometimes happens that the birth records of children born to "foreign' parents list the parent's birthplace in their record.

It wasn't quite clear from your letter if you'd checked for Danish language newspaper obituaries in this country. If you haven't, try for that source for both the parents, and the daughters. Caspar, his wife, or daughters may also have joined fraternal organizations. Sometimes, applications filled out for such a union could contain information that would be helpful. The Mesa public library should have a copy of the most current directory of such organizations and institutions with their addresses.

The above should keep you busy for a few days! If no clue is forthcoming after those searches, write again and we'll dig some more up!

NEW FEEDBACK:

"...I thought you might like to know how your suggestions worked.

I checked the emigration records for Copenhagen and did not find Caspar in 1869, but we knew this would be a long shot. I haven't done the Hamburg, Germany ones.

I located the church in Wisconsin where the Johansen family attended. The confirmation of one of the daughters was there, but her place of baptism wasn't noted. The membership rolls did not give a home town in Denmark, but they did have birth dates for Caspar, his wife and daughters, a bonus!

I wrote again to the church to ask if anyone knew where in Denmark the other parishioners came from. The clerk sent me some pages from the history of the church. One line said, "A number of M.C. Pedersen's acquaintances in Denmark... arrived from Vejleegnen." "M.C. Pedersen came from Sindbjerg parish."

I took a gamble and ordered the Sindbjerg church records. There was the confirmation of Caspar's oldest daughter. No other records were found, but the confirmation said the daughter was born in Jelling. I ordered the Jelling records and found her birth. No other records were found there. But at least I knew I was in the right area!

Next I ordered the 1860 census for Nørvang District which includes Sindbjerg parish. I made a list of the parishes which abut Sindbjerg and started reading. In Grejs parish (which) is south of Sindbjerg), I found Caspar Johansen and his family! The census says she was born in Ringive parish and the mother and two remaining daughters born in Grejs parish.

The problem of a Danish origin for Caspar Johansen has been solved! I'm going to have a wonderful time this summer extending my family tree!

Thanks for everything!"

(NEW) ANS: THANK YOU for being so persistent in writing, waiting, writing again, and searching. Many, many churches in the U.S. have had histories written about them, particularly on or for the occasion of their 25th, 50th, 75th, 100th, and so forth anniversary of their founding. Those in charge of writing the history would have turned to their older records, and their older parishioners (if they themselves were not in that category), to put together the jewels of information that made up their history. As per the above example, such histories are valuable resources which cannot be ignored if you're trying to solve a really tough "where did they come from in the old country?" problem.

Dear Ones:

Another year gone & time for greetings. Too bad its only at Christmas time. Have wondered how you are getting along but have no way of finding out. Is Micky with you now?

We were doing fine until Sept when Art developed Phlebitis in his left leg. the inflamatory type, not a blood Clot. He recovered from that but Rheumatoid arthritis moved in & affects his knees & arms so I have to help him dress & bathe. He is some better but his hands swell so much he hasn't been able to work since Sept. He has always been so active that it's been hard for him. Dr thinks it will leave again & I hope so. Guess we should be thankful for the blessings we have enjoyed.

Shirley's Mike & family are still in Germany. He's half way through a 3 year assignment. We miss them but they are having some wonderful experiences. Their little Mark will be 4 in Jan & we are missing his cute years.

We wish You all a Merry Christmas & Good "1972"

INTERNET PROVIDES ACCESS TO STATE ARCHIVES INFORMATION

Two State Archives databases are now accessible through Internet, the evolving international connection of computer networks. The database, Public Domain Land Sales, lists the 538,740 original sales of the 54,740 square miles of public lands in Illinois. The other database, Chicago City Council Proceedings Files, 1833-1871, includes a chronological listing of file titles and up to six subject descriptors assigned to each file for indexing purposes. In all, the database includes 35,650 file titles.

How to access the State Archives databases on Internet:

The databases were converted by the Computer Center at the University of Illinois at Chicago. A GOPHER protocol for access to the internet has been provided.

Users with GOPHER can access the databases by entering:

1) GOPHER-UIC-EDU, which will display a U of I at Chicago menu.
2) Select LIBRARY.
3) Select DATABASES.
4) SELECT PUBLIC DOMAIN LAND SALES or CHICAGO CITY COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS FILES.

After entering the final selection, an introduction will explain the parameters of the database and provide further instructions.

Through Internet, these two databases are now available worldwide. The State Archives plans to make more databases available online to provide the public the broadest possible access to its holdings.

DANISH RESEARCH TIPS:

When searching for Danish records at a Family History Center, look under a parish's probate section. The names of the farms are given. At the beginning of the Danish fiche, names of the parishes are given and the county each parish is in is given. If a date of birth is not given in the baptismal records, check the confirmation records about 14 years later where the date of birth will be found.

Another tip is to use military levying roles to further your male lines. The father's name is given with the son's name which helps when so many names are similar. This pertains to dates up until about 1860.

From 1840 until about 1875, Danes had to check out of parishes when they left and into new parishes upon arrival. It may therefore prove helpful if your family was on the move to try for these parish records.

In-Office Procedure Brings Relief to Dry Eye Sufferers

Dry eye syndrome affects millions of Americans. Despite the fact that it is more common in older adults, people of all ages may have difficulties with this affliction.

"Problems from dry eyes can range from a mild annoyance to severe discomfort," commented Dr. David Scheidt. "We frequently see patients complaining of symptoms such as dryness, a gritty or foreign body sensation, redness, itching and fluctuating vision." Dr. Brett Rhode added, "Many patients are surprised to learn that, in addition to a lack of tears, watery eyes are also a common symptom of dry eyes. This watering occurs because your dry and irritated eyes send a message to the brain to make more tears to soothe the discomfort. Unfortunately, only abnormal tears without the proper amount of mucous are made and, thus, they continually roll off the eye instead of sticking to it."

> "We can often help patients facing the constant redness, itching and foreign body sensation of dry eye syndrome through a procedure called punctal plug occlusion."

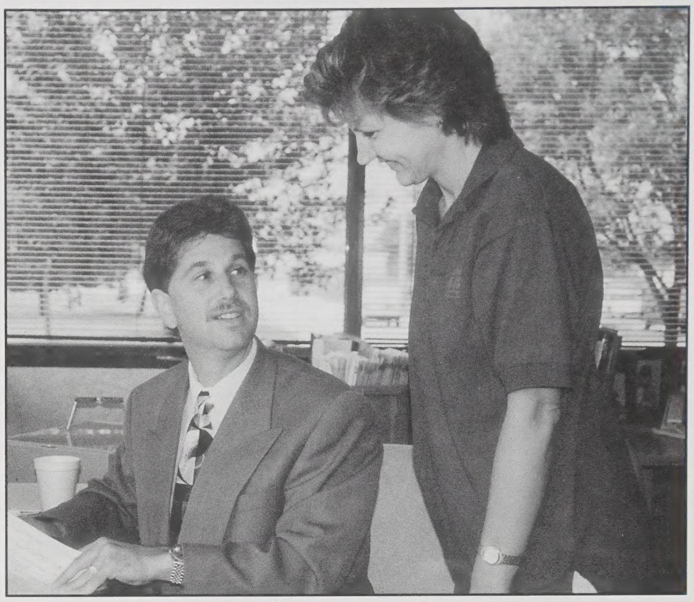
The tear film present on the front of your cornea provides the smooth, clear surface required for proper focusing of light rays and good vision. In addition, the tear film provides lubrication for eyelid movement over the cornea, nutrition for the external surface of the eye, and anti-bacterial substances to maintain the health of your eye. Thus, proper lubrication is essential to the comfort, visual function and health of your eye.



Dr. Mark Freedman discusses his operating schedule with Ann Carlson, our South Office Surgery Scheduling Coordinator. Ann assists patients in setting up their pre-operative testing and surgery times. She also provides post-operative care guidelines.

Use of artificial tear substitutes is the most common method of treatment for dry eye syndrome. These eye drop products are easily obtained over the counter without a prescription. To be most effective, they must be used very frequently. "Most patients don't realize that artificial tears generally need to be used at least five to six times a day, and even more often if necessary. The most common cause of failure of tear substitutes is not using them often enough," remarked Dr. Robert Sucher.

Dr. Norman Cohen explains the workings of a new laser procedure called "LASIK" to our staff's Refractive Surgery Coordinators Sue Paulsen (left) and Carolyn Vescio. Drs. Cohen, Sucher and Freedman now perform LASIK at our West office to treat nearsightedness and thus reduce or eliminate qualified patients' need for glasses or contact lenses.

New Equipment Enhances Ability to Detect Glaucoma

We are very excited to announce the addition of an Optic Nerve Head Analyzer to our ever-growing list of equipment. "This highly specialized machine may enable us to accurately detect changes in some patients' optic nerves before they could be noticed through traditional retinal photography or computerized visual field analysis," said Dr. Freedman. "Therefore, it may be helpful

Could Someone You Know Benefit from Refractive Surgery?

Do you know someone who wears glasses or contacts to correct nearsightedness and/or astigmatism? Are they looking for a new alternative? Do they know about refractive surgery?

■ What Is it? Refractive surgery involves microscopically reshaping the cornea to reduce or eliminate the need for glasses or contact lenses. This reshaping can be accomplished with incisional surgery procedures (RK, AK or ALK) or excimer laser treatment (PRK or LASIK).

■ Who Is A Candidate? Anyone with a healthy eye who is dissatisfied with wearing glasses, contacts or bifocals and who falls within the surgical parameters for treatment.

■ Where Is It Done? At Eye Care Specialists, we are pleased to have our own in-office surgical suites, equipment and lasers for performing all methods of refractive surgery. Since these procedures take only minutes to perform, patients can literally walk in our door and an hour or so later head back out with a "new perspective" on life.

■ What Are The Results? Studies have shown that 95% of refractive surgery patients achieve 20/40 or better vision (the legal limit for driving without glasses). A secondary procedure, called an "enhancement" may be necessary for some patients to achieve the full effect of surgery and maximize visual improvement.

■ How Much Does It Cost? Since refractive surgery is usually considered cosmetic and elective, it is typically not covered by insurance. The cost of RK is $1,100 per eye and PRK and LASIK are $1,850 per eye, including all exams, surgery and medications. Fees are tax deductible and covered by flex spending programs, and financing is available from about $100 per month.

■ Where to Begin: Call for a Free Booklet, Video &/or Consultation
If you or a friend or family member are interested in receiving a 20-page color booklet, viewing a videotape, having a consultation, or simply asking questions over the phone, please call our Refractive Surgery Hotline at 321-EYES (3937). Our specially trained counselors, Sue and Carolyn, will be happy to let you know if refractive surgery is a viable option.

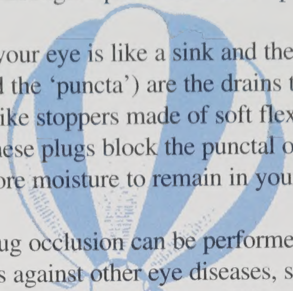
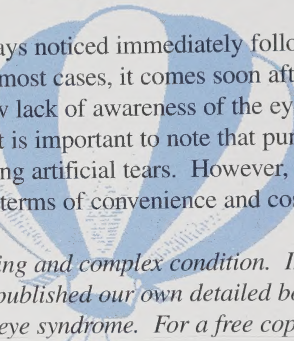
In some cases, however, even very frequent use of artificial tear drops is not enough to halt the discomfort. "Fortunately, there is another option," said Dr. Mark Freedman. "We can often help patients facing the constant redness, itching and foreign body sensation of dry eye syndrome through a procedure called punctal plug occlusion."



"Imagine your eye is like a sink and the small openings in the edges of your upper and lower lids (called the 'puncta') are the drains through which tears flow out of your eyes. Punctal plugs are like stoppers made of soft flexible silicone similar to that used to make soft contact lenses. These plugs block the punctal openings, thus eliminating tear loss and ultimately permitting more moisture to remain in your eyes," explained Dr. Freedman.

Punctal plug occlusion can be performed on virtually every viable candidate–there are no restrictions against other eye diseases, such as cataracts or glaucoma. The procedure is covered by Medicare and insurance if there is documented evidence of patient complaints supporting the presence of dry eye syndrome and artificial tears have proven unsuccessful in treating the condition. Once your doctor determines that punctal plug occlusion may be of benefit, you will typically be scheduled to return in 10 days to have one plug inserted in each lower duct of the affected eye(s). The procedure itself takes only five minutes and is done in the office using an anesthetic eyedrop to prevent discomfort. You would then return for a follow-up examination in another 10 days. At that time, the doctor will determine if punctal plug occlusion of the openings in the upper eyelids would provide additional benefit.



"Relief from the discomfort of dry eyes is not always noticed immediately following insertion of a plug," explained Dr. Norman Cohen. "In most cases, it comes soon afterward; while for others, the relief is gradual and comes as a slow lack of awareness of the eyes rather than an immediate stop of all associated discomfort." It is important to note that punctal plug insertion rarely enables a patient to totally stop using artificial tears. However, almost all patients find the reduction in their use a benefit in terms of convenience and cost savings.

We realize that dry eye syndrome can be a frustrating and complex condition. In an effort to help patients better understand their problem, we published our own detailed booklet on the causes, symptoms, diagnosis and treatment of dry eye syndrome. For a free copy of this 12-page color booklet, more information about punctal plugs, or an appointment for a complete evaluation of your condition, please call us at 321-7035. Drs. Freedman, Rhode and Scheidt perform punctal plug occlusions at all three of our office locations.

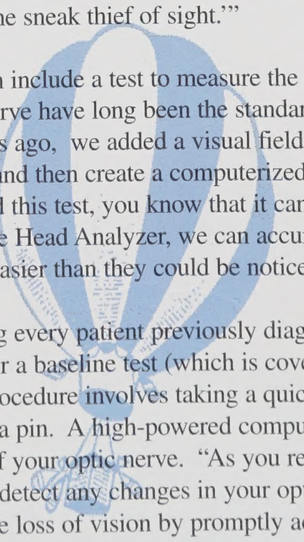
in detecting and preventing loss of vision in some patients."

Glaucoma is a condition in which improper drainage of fluid from inside the eye causes a build up of pressure which leads to damage of the optic nerve. Dr. Norman Cohen explained, "This damage is permanent and irreversible, causing a loss of side (and eventually all) vision if the glaucoma cannot be controlled." He added, "Unfortunately, this damage often starts to occur before a patient even notices the gradual tunnelling of vision. That is why we call glaucoma 'the sneak thief of sight.'"



Regular eye exams which include a test to measure the pressure inside of the eye and a visual inspection of the optic nerve have long been the standard for early detection and treatment of glaucoma. "Several years ago, we added a visual field machine to test a patient's ability to detect pinpoints of light and then create a computerized map of their field of vision. However, if you have had this test, you know that it can be lengthy and tiring. Now, with the advent of the Optic Nerve Head Analyzer, we can accurately detect changes in your optic nerve much sooner and easier than they could be noticed through traditional examination."

As a result, we are asking every patient previously diagnosed with glaucoma or as a glaucoma suspect to come in for a baseline test (which is covered by Medicare and private insurance). The 15-minute procedure involves taking a quick, painless, 3-D picture of an area smaller than the head of a pin. A high-powered computer then digitizes, processes and evaluates the size and shape of your optic nerve. "As you return for follow-up photographs, we will be able to promptly detect any changes in your optic nerve. This, in turn, will enable us to help prevent any future loss of vision by promptly adjusting your medication regimen of drops or oral medications or by performing any necessary laser therapy or surgery," said Dr. Brett Rhode.

How Can You Help To Protect Your Own Vision?

Scheduling regular check-ups and noticing and reporting any changes in your vision (wavy lines, loss of central or side vision clarity, flashes of light, etc.) are key ways that you can help your doctor to protect and preserve your precious gift of sight. In addition, American Health magazine reports "recent studies suggest there are simple measures you can take to lower your risk of developing some of the most serious eye diseases." These include:

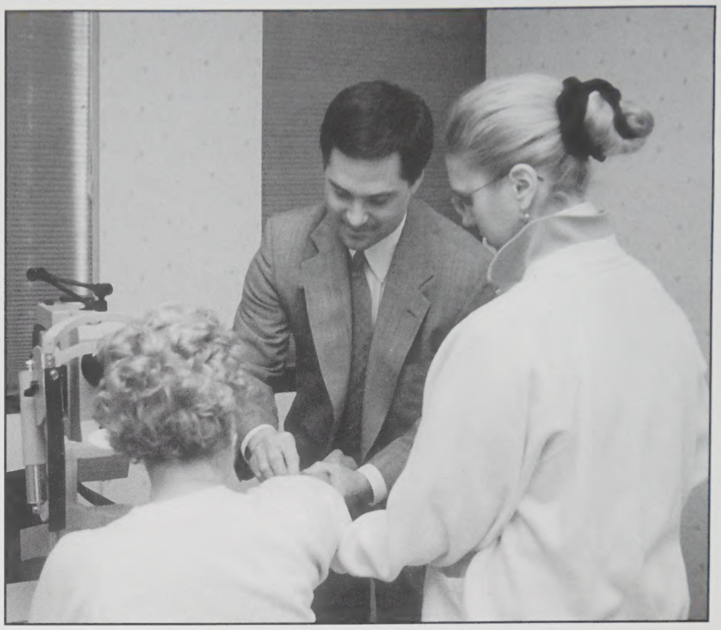
Eat your greens. Your mother was right, but she may not have known that this popular adage could save your sight. A study in the Journal of the American Medical Association found that people eating a diet high in carotenoids (pigments found in many yellow, orange and green vegetables) had a 43% lower risk of developing advanced cases of age-related macular degeneration (AMD) than people who had lower intakes of the chemicals. AMD is a retinal disease that causes blindness from loss of central vision. People who ate lots of carotenoid-rich spinach or collard greens lowered their risk most of all. Many carotenoids, including beta-carotene, are antioxidants, which researchers speculate may prevent harmful chemicals called "free radicals" from damaging the retina.

Take a multivitamin. In the same study, vitamin supplements didn't seem to protect against AMD. But two other studies suggest that supplements may help cataracts, a clouding of the lens of the eye. One study found about a 30% lower risk of cataracts among multivitamin users; the other found a 40% lower risk for developing opacities (cloudiness) in the cornea that can lead to cataracts. The protective effect of vitamins may be due to their antioxidant nutrients (beta-carotene and Vitamins C and E, for example).

Don't smoke. It has long been known that cigarette smoking causes a variety of health problems, including a 20% increase in the risk of developing cataracts. Now, new research gives smokers yet another reason to quit: Pack-a-day-or-more puffers double their likelihood of developing AMD, the most common cause of blindness among older adults. The affliction is painless but usually untreatable. Macular degeneration impairs the vision of an estimated 1.7 million Americans and causes more new cases of blindness than any other ailment among people age 65 or older.

The Journal of the American Medical Association has now announced that the more people smoke and the longer they smoke, the higher their risk of developing age-related macular degeneration. . . . Which could make it harder to light that cigarette if you can't see it.

Wear sunglasses and hats with brims. We all adore the sun, especially since we tend to see (and feel) so little of it here in Wisconsin. But, our fair-weather friend can be a potential enemy to our eyes. Several studies have shown that chronic, unprotected exposure to sunlight–particularly its ultraviolet rays–increases the risk of developing cataracts. And, a study of nearly 5,000 adult residents in Beaver Dam, Wis., showed that people who protected their eyes from bright sunlight by wearing sunglasses or hats with brims seemed to lower their risk of developing AMD. As a result of this and previous data, the FDA is proposing a voluntary standard under which non-prescription sunglasses would block 99% of UVB and 95% of UVA rays. Many sunglass manufacturers already list their protection levels on tags or labels attached to their products. Use this information to protect yourself (and encourage your children and grandchildren to do so) the next time you step outside to take a drive, work in the garden or relax in a chair.



Dr. David Scheidt rolls up Esther Sowinski's sleeve and explains how a dye injected into her arm will travel to her eye in order for technician Mary Nowak to take pictures of her retina. The photos are used to detect and track diabetes and other conditions.

Busy, Busy, Busy

As always, our doctors do much more than just see and treat patients:

- Drs. Cohen, Sucher and Freedman traveled to Houston and Mexico to complete a course in LASIK refractive surgery for the treatment of nearsightedness sponsored by Chiron Vision, a laser manufacturer.
- Drs. Rhode and Scheidt have been "on the talk circuit," traveling to a number of retiree organizations, nursing homes and hospital staff training sessions to present educational slide presentations.
- This March, our doctors will conduct an extensive continuing medical education seminar for referring optometrists. The topic will be an update on glaucoma evaluation and treatment.

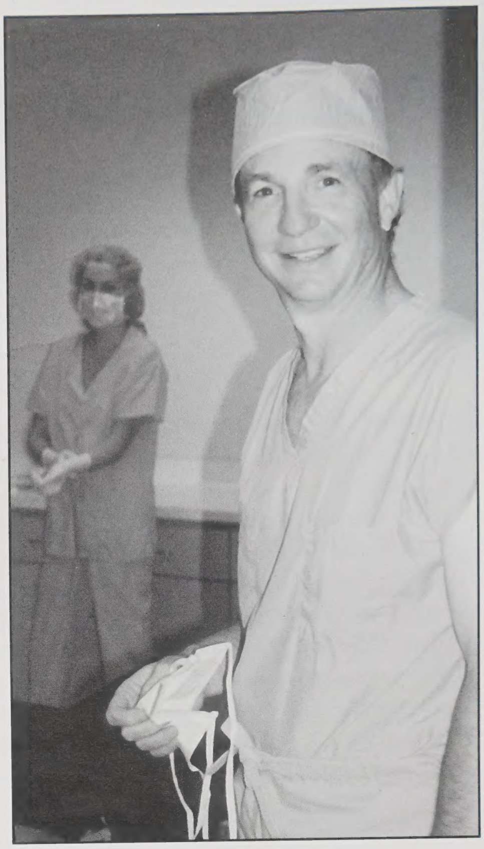
Do You Still Have My Chart?

Patients are amazed when they notice the more than 45,000 charts filed on shelves at our three offices. They would be even more surprised if they knew that there are thousands more in storage. As one of the busiest ophthalmology practices in the state, it's a big task keeping our medical records up-to-date and alphabetically filed. Especially since our six doctors are continually seeing new patients and; therefore, adding up to to 800 or more new charts to the shelves each month. How do we keep track of it all?



Dr. Robert Sucher gets ready to scrub in for a Radial Keratotomy (RK) procedure with technician Kim Englund at our South office surgical suite. RK is one of several refractive surgery procedures that involve changing the shape of the cornea to reduce or eliminate the need for glasses or contact lenses.

A Chart Is Born

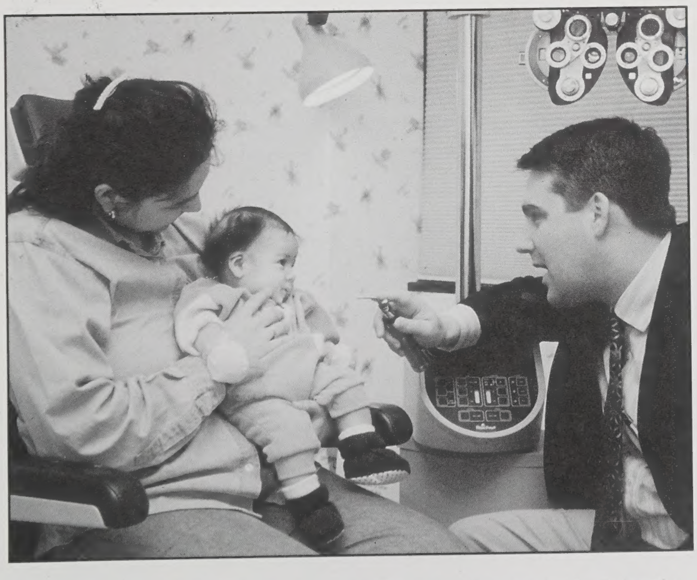
The on-going process begins the minute you check in for the first time. A new chart is created with labels for the first two letters of your last name and the last two digits of the year. Next, an information card with your name, address, telephone number and insurance information is placed in the chart after you are done filling it out. Copies of any Medicare and insurance cards are also made and added to the file.

Your Record Grows

Your chart then follows you back to the examination rooms where the technician asks you questions about your overall medical health and current eye care problems or concerns. This is documented in what is known as your "medical history." Next, tests such as a glaucoma exam, distance vision evaluation and other procedures are conducted and documented by the technician or doctor. Finally, the doctor performs a complete assessment of your vision and either writes the results himself or dictates them to a "scribe" in the room who adds them to your chart. With each visit to our office, information regarding your address, phone, insurance and medical condition is updated, as well as the doctor's findings. And, your chart gets bigger, and bigger, and bigger.

What If I'm Here, But My Chart Is There?

Sometimes patients are originally seen at one location but then go to another of our offices for a specific procedure (such as laser surgery), an emergency, greater convenience, etc. In these cases, the pertinent parts of your chart are immediately faxed to the appropriate office. The same is true if you are referred by another doctor to our practice or we seek consultation with another physician regarding your case.



Clara Mayorga holds her son Juan Diego while he looks intently at Dr.Brett Rhode. Dr. Rhode enjoys putting his extensive training in the correction of crossed eyes and other pediatric eye conditions to work caring for our littlest of patients.

Is My Chart Still On File?

Each time you visit us, the year stickers on your chart are updated. Charts with stickers dating back five years or more are pulled from the active shelves in the front office and moved to a back office. Deceased patients' charts or inactive charts dating back 10 years or more are sent to a business storage company. Therefore, if you have not been to see us in several years, rest assured, your chart is still on-hand or just a phone call away. Medical records are never destroyed. In the case of referrals or transfers to other physicians, only copies of your records are sent. The originals remain here waiting for you if you need them.

Thank You!

We would like to thank those readers who have shown their faith in our abilities by referring friends and family members to our practice. We always appreciate having the opportunity to care for these new patients.
When you have your family and/or friends call, please tell them to notify the receptionist that they are being referred by an Eye Care Specialists' patient.

God hath not promised
Skies always blue,
Flower-strewn pathways
All our lives through;
God hath not promised
Sun without rain,
Joy without sorrow,
Peace without pain.

But God hath promised
Strength for the days,
Rest for the labor,
Light for the way.
Grace for the trials,
Help from above,
Unfailing sympathy
Undying love . . . .

had it. Dr. gave him penicillan pills &
that helped. He's back in school this week
He went to Boy Scout meeting tonight.

I'll jot down what I have about Grandpa
Hansen. There's a lady who used to be a close friend of Art & Vic's mother & she is coming for a visit this summer & I may be able to find out more from her.

Grandpa - Hans Peter Simoni Hansen
was ~~the~~ born in Ejer Denmark Jan
29-1872. son of Simon Hansen &
Kirsten Franzen Hansen. He was the only son & they added an i to his father's name making Simoni.
which means the first son. I dont know why the Hans Peter but that was too much name to use so he is known as just Simoni Hansen.
He had two sisters. Fredrika & Katrena. ✓ who stayed in Denmark. He married your Grandmother in either 1893 or 94.
Her name was Karen Madsen. & she was also born in Denmark but am not sure if it were Ejer. - She had one sister for sure & her name was Nora but I dont know much more.
She was living in Denver Colorado
the last Art knew of her. Grandpa

I would especially like to know more about the lineage of my grandmother, Karen "Carrie" Madsen

Can her parents be located on 1880 Denmark Census? Probably they were somewhere in Skanderborg?

My father died when I was only 2 years old and I was raised in Missouri near my maternal grandparents. I visited my grandfather Simoni Hansen very briefly after I was grown but did not know him well - mostly Christmas cards or small gifts then. I bonded more with Uncle Art Hansen, my dad's older brother. The boys were very young when their mother died of TB + a young stepmother was ~~for~~ not very fond of them. The family had thought Denver mountain air might cure TB but it was too late. Her sister Nora seems to have been in Denver but I do not know her married name.

Danish

The Danish language belongs to the Scandinavian branch of the Teutonic family of languages and is closely allied to the Norwegian and Swedish. It is the most modern of the Scandinavian languages, soft and rather monotonous, with shades of sounds difficult for a foreigner to acquire. All Danish nouns were capitalized up to the time of 1948.

THE ENGLISH LANGUAGE

The following excerpts are from THE AMERICA EDUCATOR ENCYCLOPEDIA, Chicago, 1922.

The foundation of this language is the speech of the ancient Angles and Saxons, who separated themselves from their Teutonic brothers in the north of Europe and crossed into England in the fifth and sixth centuries A.D. They found here Britons, speaking a Celtic dialect; and though, after one hundred fifty years of hard and incessant fighting, they succeeded in driving the natives to the north and west; that ancient language has persisted through the intervening centuries and a survival of it is found to-day in Wales.

The simple, strong and forceful words of the English language come from the Anglo-Saxon. The highly inflected Anglo-Saxon language was little modified until the Norman Conquest, when French was made the language of the court and of law. The English people would not accept this new speech, and for two hundred years two languages with many dialects were spoken in this little island. About 1250 there began an amalgamation of the two tongues. At the same time the complicated inflections began to be dropped. In less than two hundred years a new language was taught in the schools and heard in the courts of law. This language was for the most part the English heard to-day.

Of this new composite language, the Anglo-Saxon had furnished the common words of the home, the farm and every-day life; while the Norman had introduced the words that pertained to the court, society, sports and law. Under the Italian influence, which lasted from 1400 to 1660, many more words of Latin origin were incorporated into our speech. The recent developments in science have brought a large influx of technical terms, generally derived from the Latin and the Greek. So in thirteen or fourteen centuries an Anglo-Saxon vocabulary of possibly 30,000 words has expanded into the rich and full English language of more than 500,000 words, of which a large majority have been adopted from foreign tongues. Yet the grammar of our language and vocabulary of our common speech are in the main still the vigorous Anglo-Saxon.

DISAPPEARING LANGUAGES

According to German linguist Martin Haspelmath in MUTTERSPRAGUE (Mother Tongue, journal of the Society for the German Languages) up to 90 percent of the estimated 6000 to 7000 languages now spoken in the world will die out in the next century. He writes that since ca 8000 BC, 10,000 to 15,000 languages were spoken and have vanished.

Hans Zischer, University of Munich, was a speaker on the Human Genome Society held in Heidelberg (Baden-Wurttemberg) on 22 March 1996. He stated that the Sami (Lapps) in the north of Scandivavia and the people of Estonia, Finland and Hungary speak the Finnish-Ugric rather than the Indo-Germanic language. The Finns "switched" to the Finnish-Ugric during a prehistoric migration.

Frisian, Lower German (Niederdeutsch) and Sorbian are slowly disappearing from Germany.

Yiddish was once spoken by 8 million Jews in Central and Eastern Europe before WW II. Today it is spoken mostly by 2 million elderly Jews. Vilnius, Lithuania was the depository of one of the world's largest libraries of Judica and a major center of Jewish life prior to the start of WW II.

Dear Norma & Johnny: I am ashamed that I haven't written sooner to thank you for our nice cheese assortment. The Hansens are all fond of any kind of cheese & to get so many kinds at once. We surely enjoyed trying them all. Thanks so much. We received your Xmas letter with the snapshots & were really pleased with them. Had been wondering how big Mickey is & who she looks like. The pictures we also good of you two & your home looks so nice. Seems to me that Mickey favors both of you. She's surely a cutie & I wish we could see her.

We have had quite a winter, not that the weather has been bad - we've had very little snow & only a couple of real cold spells & they didn't last but two or three days each.

Think I told you in the last note I wrote you that we have been in the act of remodeling since away last spring. We finally finished the bath room & most of the kitchen. Have the lower part of the cabinets & two doors to paint.

Then came the holidays - then inventory at the store + soon as we got that finished Art came to the hospital. He had a double hernia + it wasn't getting any better so decided to have it taken care of. They planned on operating at 8 oclock yesterday but there was a car accident just south of town so they had to be taken care of first but they did take him up at 8:30. He was in surgery 2 hours + 10 minutes so he should have some beautiful embroidery work with two Drs. working that long. I have been with him. stayed last nite
+ may stay tonite if he wants me.
or needs me. They aren't as strict here as they are in the Cities + they are so busy that I think they are glad for the help.
I think he is doing alright but is quite miserable for a few days. Seems he has to cough + of course that's a strain on the spots that are already sore. Then P.M. the gas pains started + he didn't know he'd have gas pains. They just gave him another hypo so he is getting sleepy. Hope he has a better nite than last night-

We had such a nice letter from Billie Gene. I'm so glad Allan is on the teaching staff permanently. That way they can build a home + a future for their little family. Just makes me sick about little Billie. She looks like such a pretty child + to think she has to be handicapped, I just wonder if; with patience + persevereance, she won't develope into almost a normal child. We saw a woman on "strike it Rich" on T.V. that had worked + exercised her daughter until she led a normal life + went to high school + this woman wanted to strike it rich + turn the money over to the Cerebral Palsy foundation.

Elaine Hansen Lippert had their baby the 20th of Jan. + Mrs. Hansen went to Aurora a week ago Tues to be with her when she came home from the hospital. She came home yesterday. Says they are doing fine + have a nice strong baby. They named her Marcia Elaine.

Billie Gene asked if we had any information as to the Hansen family tree. I think you also asked about it some time back + I've never been able to find out too much but will write what I did find out.

Here it is Mar. 24th & ④ will try to write some more. So much has happened & I never light any more it seems.
A week after I started this Shirley & Michael suddenly came home from Houston & we had to get Mike started in school & I ran to the hospital & to work & home & back to work. Art came home in 10 days but didn't work until this week). He went up for a few hours part of last week but this week he's going every day.
Dr. says he can't lift anything for 3 mo. & then not heavy things but I'm so glad it's over as there is always the chance of a hernia becoming strangulated & that's bad.
We are starting the usual spring business of repairs & new tools, field seeds & Garden seeds. We are having a week of damp cloudy weather with just enough rain to make it messy.
Snow is predicted but I hope it's wrong.
Michael was 12 yrs. old Feb 4 & has grown quite tall. He was quite sick last week with a high temperature and the glands in his neck were ⑤ swollen & throat sore. So many have had it. Dr. gave him penicillan pills &

that helped. He's back in school this week
He went to Boy Scout meeting tonight.

I'll jot down what I have about Grandpa
Hansen. There's a lady who used to be a close friend of Art & Vic's mother & she is coming for a visit this summer & I may be able to find out more from
her.

Grandpa - Hans Peter Simoni Hansen
was ~~the~~ born in Ejer Denmark Jan
29-1872. son of Simon Hansen &
Kirsten Franzen Hansen. He was the only son & they added an i to his father's name making Simoni
which means the first son. I don't know why the Hans Peter but that was too much name to use so he
is known as just Simoni Hansen.
He had two sisters. Fredrika & Katrena
who stayed in Denmark. He married
your Grandmother in either 1893 or 9
Her name was Karen Madsen. & she was also born in Denmark but am not sure if it were Ejer. - She had one sister for sure & her name was Nora but I don't know much more
She was living in Denver Colorado
the last Art knew of her. Grandpa

Attn: County Clerk's Office

Please send me a copy of the death certificate of my grandmother, Karen Christine ("Carrie") Hansen--maiden name Madsen--who died of tuberculosis in the Denver area in 1903 or 1904. I am enclosing a chec for $15.00, not knowing the correct fee.

If you do not have enough staff available to make the search, I would appreciate your turning this letter and the check over to some local genealogist, since I do not know the resources available in the Denver area.

Note for the clerk or genealogist:
Karen's husband was Simoni Hansen. My father, Victor E. Hansen, was the younger of two sons, and born in Northwest Iowa in May 1901. Not very much later the mother was diagnosed with tuberculosis and advised to move to the "mountain air" believed back then to be a way to treat the disease. She had a sister Nora (or Elnora)--married name not known, living in Denver at the time. The family packed up and moved to Denver, but it was too late and my grandmother died anyway. Simoni took the little boys and moved back to Iowa, where he remarried in April 1905.

This is not a very long time frame to search, and I am hopeful you can help me. I will be very grateful!

Sincerely,

Norma Hansen Zaniewski

Dear Norma;
another year almost gone. Time surely has flown for me. Guess Ive slowed up more than I realize or else I try to do too much, but they say we should get involved & I am. I work at the hospital auxilliary gift shop Sat P.M. Help with the "Cookie Cart" at one of the nursing homes one P.m a week. am secy-treas. of our Church Circle so dont have time to get bored.

Shirley had surgery last April, The tube leading from the kidney to the bladder.

This fall, Oct her husband had a prostate operation & before he left the hospital Dr had more X rays taken & saw gall stones & a pollup on the Colon so in Nove. he went into the hospital again for another operation. His sister from Colordo Came to be with him as Shirley Couldn't take that much time off & keep her job. She stayed 5 weeks & slept here as they don't have a spare bedroom. She is a very nice person to have around but even nice people get hungry so I had a busy time but she was a great help to Shirley.

We have wondered about Michelle, where she interned, if she specialized & what kind of Dr she is. We had a lovely Greeting from her yesterday but no note, just signed their names so we would appreciate news of them.

Art has slowed down a lot this year - Had high blood pressure & is on 12 hour Capsuls I guess for Circulation. He rests every P.M. & thats good for him - I never have time -

Now Norma we wish you wouldn't send a pkge this year. Postal rates are so high it doesn't make sense. we would appreciate hearing about you & Janine & Billie & family as we never hear from her.

Shirley's Mike is still in the Army & he's making that his Career. The government paid for 2 years of College for him & in return he had to re-enlist for 6 yrs + at the end of that time he will have in 18 years so just as well stay 2 more years + round out 20. He is stationed at White Sands New Mexico + is doing data processing or Computer work. This is a testing grounds + they make records of everything.

We had some Cold weather last week - was 10° below zero two nights but has moderated this week (40° above) + I'm glad we have only had 1 snow (4") but it didnt last long. Eastern Iowa has really had a lot, roads Closed etc last weekend.

Will Close by wishing You a Merry Christmas + May 1978 be good to you - MH

Le Mars Iowa
Dec 1973

Dear Norma + Girls:

why do we all neglect keeping in touch through the year? Guess we are all guilty but in this busy old world it is easy to think there will be more time tomorrow + there never is.

We are ending the year quite well for oldsters but last march I had surgery again. I developed a hernia from the fall I had down the basement steps + Dr also discovered a cyst which he removed so with a little making over, I'm up + on the go again for which I am very thankful. Art is feeling better this year + still does some plumbing repair which is good for him. He does have a cold right now but so many people do with trying to Conserve fuel. So many youngsters are out of school & 65° is not warm enough.

Shirleys Mike & family got home from Germany last spring & he is now stationed at Arlington Va & won't get a Christmas leave so we will just have Shirley & Wes with us.

There have been so many deaths here lately. It seem that every week lately I've been baking something, going to the funeral home or helping with lunches. am glad to help but it does take time.

we have wondered about the girls, if Mickey is still in College. Janine graduates from High School this spring doesn't she?

We would be so happy to hear from you & learn the news -

Hope you have a nice Christmas & that "1974" will be a good year for all of you.

Our love to all -

Art & Mary

Dec 16-1972

Dear Norma & girls:

Its nearly Xmas again & Santa has already been here with a package from Milwaukee. Thanks so much I know we'll enjoy it, but you have so many places to use your money, you shouldn't do so much for us.

Hope you have kept well this year. We have discovered that health is about the most precious thing we can own.

Are you still a medical secretary Norma? I still work 1 day a week at the Veterinary's office which sort of keeps me interested & in touch with the public plus a little extra cash.

Art is feeling much better than last year. The arthritis isnt as severe yet. Our weather has been so cold but maybe that is better than so much dampness.

It was 17° below zero this a m & was -19° two other mornings & we had 7" of snow Tues. The farmer have the beans taken care of near us but not all their corn.
& the central & eastern Iowa had so much rain earlier & then 10" of snow until their beans will really be a loss & the corn will need drying to be able to harvest it & now a fuel shortage they claim. The farmers are trying to dry their Corn & use a lot of propane gas.

We didnt have a vacation trip last summer. not even our usual fishing trip to Minnesota - It seemed that the summer was gone before we knew it.

I went into the hospital the 13th of Jan for hemorrhoid surgery & my temperature was 103° & Dr checked the lungs & they were both affected so had to wait that out & didnt get back for the surgery until the middle of March. I had gon for my pre-operative lab test earlier in the week & the flu bug didn't show up then! I was quite disappointed as I wanted to get it over with. I came thru just fine until I fell down the basement steps. There again I was lucky as I broke no bones. but skinned the top of my head, had 2 black eyes. hit my back on the steps & was sore all over for some time. I didn't miss a step, I over-balanced, stooping to pick up something at the top of the stairs so took a nose dive. Its a wonder I didnt break my neck.

Shirley has the ladies ready-to wear in our newest dept. store, She likes both her job & her boss & his wife & that always helps.

Her son Mike & family are still in Germany but will finish his 3 year assignment the last of march. Betty & little Mark are due to come in Jan & then Mike will live on base the rest of the time. He will be in Arlington Virginia next when he returns to the states. Living conditions in Germany are good + they like it there only have been homesick at times. Mark will be 5 years old Jan 3rd + we have missed his cutest years but such is life I guess. We are just thankful they were sent there instead of Vietnam.

How have you been + the girls? Doesn't Janine graduate from High school this year? Is she still the sweet little gal she was when we visited you? We both thought she was someone special + I'm sure she's a great help to you.

We hope that Mickey is better by now + does well in college.

Art has made two large bird feeders + has 2 suet stations on trees + a box on legs for the squirrels + we all enjoy watching them. We have Cardinels + bluejays + they are so colorful in the snow. We have had sub zero weather most of Dec + last Tuesday hat 7 inches of snow -

Do you still have the boy friend? Hope things work out right for you. Am sure you deserve happiness at last as you have hard a bad adjustment to make. Hope you have a nice Xmas - Love to all in the basement & had a loud speaker so they could hear the service.

I'm so sorry we never heard where Michelle interned or just what type of Dr she is or if she specialized. We had a thank you from her & thats the last we've heard. Art was always so interested in both Micky & Janine & felt that you girls were the only family he had left after Marjorie & Elaine disowned him.

My sister in law stayed with me the first few nights. Then Shirleys husband flew to Colorado to drive his car back & Shirley stayed that week but this week I'm alone - I have to stand on my own two feet sometime so I'd just as well start now & only take 1 day at a time. If it had to be we are so thankful he didn't have to suffer a long illness.

write when you can - Love to all - Mary & Shirley off & that helped me a lot -

We are still getting sympathy Cards - Former friends who have moved away & are just hearing about it. We've had 163 cards so far.

We didn't notify Marjorie or Elaine. Maybe we did wrong but Marjorie didn't let us know when her husband died. We had to read it in the paper & then Art sent her a generous memorial & when their mother died he gave them a $25.00 memorial. They never asked us to go to the funeral with them as a family but we went anyway & they ignored us entirely which broke Arts heart as he always thought so much of his sisters. There were 14 people at her funeral besides the relatives so that showed what kind of a person she was.

When Arts father died, the church was full & they had the overflow

we decided on what they call Burgandy Color, dark but in the light had a nice appearance
It was selfsealing (metal) with lovely hardware (handles) + Corner decorations. The inside was biege Color, real soft looking + the panel in the lid was tufted but mannish looking.
Because he was in the army years ago he received a large flag which was folded down in size + put in the panel.
There were 14 floral sprays besides the family spray on the casket. we just couldn't believe there were so many friends who did so much for us. There were ~~109~~ 110 memorials (money) some 2 or 3 dollars but many $5.00 + 10.00 one $45.00 + 1-$35.00 also 56 food donations so you can see how many "thank yous" Shirley + I had to write. Her boss told her she could have a week was in Colorado on vacation & visiting her sister-in-law & husband at Loveland. She had driven out & would have come home on Sat but they wouldn't let her drive home alone so she flew & my niece met her in Sioux City. Her son Mike Adams is stationed at White Sands missile base in New Mexico. & he got a flight home on Friday. The funeral was Monday the 17th at 10:30 in the Presbyterian Church which he had belonged to for 68 yrs. our pastor who had served here for 17 years but is now retired but lives here was able to hold the service as our new pastor was on vacation & that was a comfort as we had worked together & he is a good friend as well as a fine minister. I waited for Shirley & Mike before choosing the casket as I felt that they should have a choice couple of hours + after he got oxygen + an I.V. he seemed better. He even told me to go home + rest a while as I had been up with him most of the night. Of course I didnt go

They brought some broth + tea at noon but he didnt want anything. About 1:30 he sweat big drops of persperation + said he was so warm. I told him I'd mop his brow + he said "that feels better". I was standing with the towel in my hand + he looked up + said "Mom, I believe Im going to pass out. Better call the nurse". Before they could reach him he was gone. Two Drs + three nurses worked with him 20 minutes or more but couldn't revive him. Dr said a massive blood clot hit his heart. It was a terrible shock. Shirley

Dear Norma -

I wish I didnt have to write this letter but we want you to know. Art passed away suddenly July 13th - we didnt call you at the time as we felt sure that you wouldnt be able to come.

He hadnt been well since March but was up & dressed most of the time. He was unable to work which made him unhappy as he had always been active. He had a breathing problem & had several spells. The 13th early (about 4 oclock) he had a spell & I called the ambulance to take him to the hospital by 5 a.m. He was in emergancy for a

Just got a letter from Shirley that Art had suddenly passed away July 13. She was in Colorado. So it made a shocking time for all of them. If you havnt heard I knew you would want to know. Love

Norma, this may not have anything to do with our people; but I don't remember anything to make it impossible either. Sorry I didn't get it to you before Salt Lake City. There must have been hundreds of Mads Petersons in Denmark; but lightening has been known to strike.

Dear Ms. Pringle:

I am working on my families genealogy and came across your request in the Everton's Genealogical Helper dated May/June, 1994. I am so new to this work that I am looking at everything that comes my way.

My family came from Denmark, they immigrated to the U.S. in 1881 according the Michigan Census. During my search of the Charlivoix Co. Clerk Records I found the following entry. I don't know if this is the person you were searching for or not. There are several Petersons in this county, and also Emmet Co., in Michigan. My family (Peterson's) settled in this area. There is also evidence that some settled in Ontario, Canada. My great grandmother was married in Toronto in 1895. I remember seeing the name Johanna Nielsen also, but did not take the information because I didn't realize there was any relationship at the time. This info is in the Charlivoix Co. Records in Charlivoix, Michigan.

the wound because didn't want to close in any infection that might have escaped from the appendix. They put on wet dressings daily (2 times per day) He had a tube down nose to lower intestines or somewhere to drain out stuff. His bowel action was temporarily paralized (Ilia? or something like that?) He was in a lot of pain but couldn't have any pain killer which I understand would have made that worse. He wasn't allowed food as nothing was coming out and abdomin very hard & (full?). I understand they never did sew him up but put on an X of tape. He came home (in Rolla) last Sunday.

Jim has in his head to drive up to Thompson, Manitoba and take the train to Churchill on the Hudson Bay 1st week in Nov. I wish he'd wait.

very excited about the Hansen stuff ♡ B.G. ♡

Dear Norma,

We received your very welcome letter today. I've read every thing (with pleasure) but wont take time & space for much comment here.

Big Allan has had surgery for a cancer (new small) of the prostate and is recovering well. They removed the prostate by freezing and for 3 months or more the bits and pieces will drain out. He should not have any more trouble from it; although as with any surgery of that sort he will take about a year to feel totally recovered.

'Little' Allan had an emergency appendectomy 2 weeks ago Sunday (next). It was ready to burst and he had a very bad time of it. They didn't close

Dear Norma:

Your recent letter to the Plymouth County Clerk of Courts was turned over to us as they do not have time to do genealogy research.

You will find enclosed the Marriage Register & Marriage Record for Carrie Madsen & Simoni Hansen.

We looked for a death certificate for Karen Hansen and did not find one. We also checked the Plymouth County Cemetery files and found no record of her death or burial. I checked the Beely Fissel Funeral Home records for that period and found nothing. We checked the City Hall Cemetery Plot records and did not find a record of her burial. We did find Simoni Hansens & it follows: Simoni Hansen #3545
age 86 died: 30 April 1958 Buried Blk 18 Lot 77 Mauer Funeral Home

I checked the LeMars Sentinel Newspaper index 1890 through 1904 but found no item about the death of Karen Hansen. Sorry

I have enclosed Census Records for 1900 & 1910 and hope that they will be useful to you.

The Northwest Iowa Genealogy Society will do research upon request, the first hour is free and any additional time is $5.00 per hour.

Thank you for sending the check for $15.00, we have used that amout for this search.

Do you have any idea what church they might have belonged to, we could check for church records.

Sincerely

Dear Billie -

Time has gone racing by - wanted to send you the photos of Daddy's funeral + also answer the (genealogical) questions you asked me to much sooner. Forgive me if I forgot some things, and ask again. First of all, it was so very nice to see you and three of your kids again. They turned out to be such fine adults I'm proud of them! As Janine said, it was a special treat to see Allan III because we had not seen him for such a very long time.

Some of the snapshots turned out better than others. I kept copies of the whole roll + also sent a whole set to Mamma. With all the Pring Janine, Sammy, and Martha, plus Kathy et al wanting reprints it got to be a little expensive so I selected a few I thought each person would enjoy - and want any and all of you to feel free to ask for others. (Especially did not know who would want any - or which picture of Daddy in his casket!) The numbers corresponding to the film negati are written on the back of each snapshot - so you or they should ask for how many you want of each of the number on the back. I was going to write Jim + Peggy separately but time is flying by so would you please give Jim, Becky + Allan III their copies. I don't have Becky + Allan's addresses. Tell Becky I can't get over how pretty she looked! It would have been nice to see Billie Jr, but do understand it would have been too hard a trip for her under the circumstances. Hope if all goes well to see her next summer.

I have a big favor to ask. Would you please finish filling out the Pringle family group sheet somewhere in this bunch of papers and return it, and on the back the name + birthdate of each Pringle grandchild? It would be nice to have addresses also.

You asked for Zaniewski data, so am enclosing a group sheet. Of the I cannot remember the day of the month of my girls marriages but don't want to hold this up to get that - Michelle married immediately after she graduated from medical school - not earlier for scholarship financial reasons. Chuck's father was chairman of the Psychology Dept at Univ WI-Madison. He ~~was~~ was already ill & died a couple of years later of cancer, They lived in a Frank Lloyd Wright house - very beautiful. Mother died 5 years ago or so. But after many trial separation Michelle & Chuck finally divorced. She paid him alimony but got it stopped when his mother willed him a big bundle of money. I seldom hear from her, though it breaks my heart, there is nothing else I can do about it. Michelle has a brilliant mind as far as her chosen profession is concerned, has a beautiful home in Spring Texas north of Houston and loves to travel abroad. She never used the name Bridgman

Billie, later on I was sorry to have questioned Mamma about our Dad at such an inappropriate time — me & my big mouth! Sometimes when very, very tired & stressed out, I say things I am sorry later. But since it happened, it is good she talked to you & me both together. Her version must be true as far as it goes. I know from personal experience one forgets some things that happened during an unbearably sad and stressful period - one just blocks out memories too painful to deal with. (If Uncle George was right about Audrey being "Ada's baby" it would be the second rejection by a man she loved and put her trust in. - from her point of view. For anyone lacking self confidence, it must have been devastating.) Aunt Mattie was worried she was having a nervous breakdown. When I asked why she did not tell Mamma about her suspicions our Dad was "bumped off" by the mob, she said none of them thought she could bear it so they kept quiet, but that she had seldom seen a very young man so wrapped up in his child - he was so proud, and played with me everyday - and would have done the same with you. He loved Mamma, and never looked at women or drank or any of those things.

On the other hand, he was deep in debt with wife, child & another on the way & worried about paying his bills — and only 24 years old!

Billie, I don't know about you - maybe you were very mature at 24. I sure wasn't, and young men usually get mature later than girls. Since he needed money maybe he tried to deal with gangsters - like hush money or about that missing baggage - or maybe something that had happened in the past caught up to him - it does sound as though he was frightened, don't you agree? What do you think? I'd like to know your opinion. As to why Aunt Mattie did not talk to you about it after you moved to Kansas City I don't know - two theories: (1) Maybe they thought once was enough + I would tell you, or (2) I gave her too hard a time + she didn't want to go through it again. For I really can't remember my reaction in detail except that I was upset and probably appeared somewhat skeptical. What they had said was too hard to cope with until after some weeks had passed. I did grill her about not telling Mamma - didn't mean to be difficult but maybe I was?? Even years later when I visited Uncle Art, he lost no time in asking whether we ever heard from Victor. He said no one in Iowa had. I replied that we had not + that my mother wondered if he or Grandpa Hansen had. He said Victor had a difficult childhood because of a strict father and a stepmother who didn't like him (or Art) but that he never in the world would have thought he would be the type to desert his family. I think I answered that it was a terrible thing to do, and I would have a hard time forgiving him if he did it. I did tell Uncle Art my aunt doubted it but I didn't know what to think. Did Uncle Art say anything to you about it? My impression of Grandpa Hansen was that he was somewhat distant. He talked more to Johnny than to me, though he did act friendly. He was not warm like sweet Uncle Art + Aunt Mary. Sent me to the movies with Elaine + her friend while he took John on a trip to Sioux City on business. God alone knows what Johnny said to him - probably some wild tale he had convinced himself of. That long ago I did not realize the proble or impact of something like that. Maybe some wrong impression was passed on, maybe not. (Sorry to ramble.)

Little Sis, I do think a lot about you & am especially concerned about your health. I wish you could feel better. Also, tell Allan hi, and I hope he is feeling better than he was for a while. And I'm grateful to him for the genealogical finds, especially that superb search locating the NC/Ky/Jackson Co TN Griffiths. I'm pretty sure they were the right people — also that they do tie in with the Teaters — will discuss that on a separate sheet so you can put it in your Griffith file.

You asked for data on the Cynthia Dunn - Robert Doak marriage, so Dunn stuff is also included, to be placed in your Dunn file. With questions.

Realized I do not have data on Mamma's brother, Ben White. Do you know why he went to California & when — & what part? Near San Diego? When was Aunt ~~Esther~~ (Stone) White born, died & where & marriage date etc. I don't even remember the second wife's name or when Uncle Ben died. Do you have that? Maybe I can get Mamma to answer some of that, or ask our cousins but they might not answer.

RESEARCH IN DENMARK

Denmark consists of the peninsula of Jylland and 483 islands of which 100 are inhabited. The main jurisdictions in Denmark that have to do with preserved records are: Amt (county); Herred (district); Sogn (Parish); By (Village); There are 25 Amter, each of which is divided into herreder and each herreder into several signe. Each sogn consits of several byer, gaarde (larger farms) and Huse (homes with smaller farms). These smaller units were identified by individual place names and quite often in Danish research it is possible to disringuish between two individuals with the same name by the gaard or hus in which they lived.

The earliest parish registers (Lutheran) date from 1572; only a few were kept prior to 1641. By 1685, approx. half the parishes maintained such records, and from the 18th century all of the parishes were doing so. The parish clergyman recorded all births in his register, whether or not the persons concerned were of the Lutheran faith. The original records from the earliest period to 1890 are in the Riksarchiv (State Archives) at Copenhagen, and the Provincial Archives at Aabenraa, Odense, and Viborg. The registers since 1890 are in the custody of the respective parishes.

Census enumberations were taken in Denmark as early as 1787 and all returns up to 1890 are open to the public. The schedules from 1787-1840 inclusive listed each person in the family, giving his name, address, family position, age, marital status, and occupation. In later years, additions were made to these records, such as birthplaces, church affiliations and dates of birth. The census returns may be consulted at the State Archives in Copenhagen.

Military levying rolls were begun in 1788 and list each male individual, his father, his own place of birth, age height, residence, etc.

The Skifteprotokoller, or probate records,were maintained as early as 1574, but it was not until 1683 that probate records were generally kept in Denmark. These records are as valuable as the parish registers for the date they provide on deceased persons and their families.

Records of land tenures were generally kept by 1660. These records give the names of the copyholder, sometimes his parish of birth, the names of the former copyholders, and their relationships to former holders of the land.

The marriage license records exist for the city of Copenhagen only, and cover the period 1735-1868.

The originals of all the above records are found in the State Archives in Copenhagen. However all of these records, generally down to 1860, have been microfilmed and are available to reaearchers through the LDS church.

A little known archival establishment in Denmark is The Emigrant Archives at Aalborg, where are maintained letters, diaries, and autobiographies of Danish emigrants, together with many of their portraits and pictures of their houses, farms and places of business.

The researcher is also urged to make use of the WCR pamphlets which will be found in the Denmark folder in the MCGS pamphlet file in the Local History Room.

Re: Hansen

Iowa - Plymouth - Naturalization & Citizenship (Reviewed 9/30/92 FHL Salt Lake)

LDS film # 1,415,725 Court records(?) - copy of actual papers Vol 4+5 - 1895-1906 (See photocopies)

1,404,995 (starts) 1910 thru 1913 contains many petitions - too late for us. A search for Simoni Hansen's petition was not fruitful - probably before 1894. After reviewing the records on film I found the same material in print - book 977.7 D2 (5a?) in the library at Salt Lake City. Exactly the same info as films. Simoni Hansen emigrated in 1892 - not 1890 as obituary states. Probably away at school at time of 1890 Danish census.

1379370 Alpha Index 1869-1906 - on cards (Plymouth Co IA)

Address (blank) Iowa Certif. Vol & Page 4-212 Dist - Plymouth Co. IA

Port of arrival (blank) Date of naturalization 23 Oct 1897

First papers 1-425 Second papers 4-212

(Note: I photocopied these 9/30/92) (We know the family was living at Sheldon when our dad was born & when he married second wife, but I cannot yet find records of them living there in O'Brien Co. Court records)

{ Book in Library # 977.716 B31 Iowa Newspapers indexed by NW IA Gen Soc, Le Mars

"HANSEN, Simoni & Karen Christine Madsen Marr Lic *5 Nov 1894 p 2 col 2"
(this last is newspaper date, not that of ceremony) (See photocopy)

Birth Records, Plymouth Co IA 1892-1900 do not show Arthur S. Hansen's birth 977.716 V 25. Neither do films I found. (There is a remote possibility his birth certificate or a marriage certificate might give Karen's birthplace - and the latter her father's & mother's names.)

The following may have nothing at all to do with Karen & Simoni, but copied because of the similarity in names: The same Le Mars Sentinel had this -

2 different issues { N. Christian Hansen & Miss Madsen marr. 10 Oct 1895 (*14 Oct paper p 3 col 2)
Nels Christian Hansen & Sign Madsen (* Nov 1895 p4 col 7 - marriage lic.)

(Grandpa Hansen probably did not emigrate with a brother or they would have talked about it, I think - but both surnames are alike.)

(Either Mamma or Uncle Art told me that a second (probably not a first) cousin relationship existed - that Grandpa Hansen married his cousin, or that the 2 wives were cousins. Do you remember which? 1st wife Madsen, 2nd wife Mathisen. I don't even know if it is true. Do you?)

LDS film # 1,415,725 Court records(?) - copy of actual papers Vol 4+5 - 1895-1906 (See photocopies)

1,404,995 (starts) 1910 thru 1913 contains many petitions - too late for us. A search for Simoni Hansen's petition was not fruitful - probably before 1894. After reviewing the records on film I found the same material in print - book 977.7 D2 (sa?) in the library at Salt Lake City. Exactly the same info as films. Simoni Hansen emigrated in 1892 - not 1890 as obituary states. Probably away at School at time of 1890 Danish census.

Birth Records, Plymouth Co IA 1892-1900 do not show Arthur S. Hansen's birth 977.716 V 25 Neither do films I found. (There is a remote possibility his birth certificate or a marriage certificate might give Karen's birthplace - and the latter her father's & mother's names.)

The following may have nothing at all to do with Karen & Simoni, but copied because of the similarity in names: The same Le Mars Sentinel had this -

2 different issues
- N. Christian Hansen & Miss Madsen marr. 10 Oct 1895 (*14 Oct paper p 3 col 2)
- Nels Christian Hansen & Sign Madsen (* Nov 1895 p 4 col 7 - marriage lic.)

(Either Mamma or Uncle Art told me that a second (probably not a first) cousin relationship existed - that Grandpa Hansen married his cousin, or that the 2 wives were cousins. Do you remember which? 1st wife Madsen, 2nd wife Mathisen. I don't even know if it is true. Do you?)

'Old guard' inspects Co. A Muster day

'Old guard' inspects Co. A Muster day

"Muster day was a great success,," Capt. Gary Nagel proudly announced earlier this week. "Public involvement in the activities at the armory was just fantastic."

Muster day was Sunday, Feb. 10, when all national guard units in Iowa held their annual open house.

For the Le Mars unit, Co. A of the Second Mechanized battalion, 133rd infantry, the day had special significance.

Six former guardsmen, four of whom were charter members of Co. K, (Roy Cooper, John Erdmann, Art Hansen and John Hart, and two of whom entered the company soon after it was organized, Rick Koerner and John Shearon, were guests of Co. A.

They were greeted by Capt. Nagel and joined him and Top Sgt. Ray Ramirez for the noon meal of pork chops, cabbage salad, baked potato with sour cream, carrots and peas, apple cake, ice cream bar, bread, butter and beverage.

"The food was really good," Rick Koerner volunteered. "If they always feed their men this well, they're eating a lot better than we used to."

"Eating with the company commander made the food taste better," Art Hansen said.

Harold (Doc) Utesch, head cook, expressed the concern of a chef who takes pride in his work. He asked the old guardsmen how they liked the food and was immediately dispatched to get another platter of pork chops.

One member of the group expressed his interest in relaying to Co. A his appreciation for the invitation to attend Muster day festivities and to share a meal with present day guardsmen.

Roy Cooper, recently named Le Mars senior citizen of the year, phrased it another way.

"There aren't many of us left and we haven't been together as a group in so many years that it was nice of Co. A to give us this opportunity to visit with one another and relive our old army days."

"When I was a boy," Rick Koerner said, "I marveled at the old Civil war veterans who could spin a yarn to fascinate us kids. I never dreamed that in John Hart I could find their equal. I don't think the guy has forgotten a thing Co. K did during the three years he was in it."

After lunch, the men were introduced to the present members of Co. A and received a resounding ovation.

John Erdmann was heard to say, "I don't know what we did to deserve that."

A crowd estimated somewhere between 50 and 100 visited Koenig armory Sunday. But the real success of the weekend was the three new enlistments.

Since early December, Co. A has had 19 new enlistments, SFC Richard Sasges reports.

The peace strength of Company K was sixty-five men, but it was recruited up to the war strength of one hundred and fifty men and their officers.

GAVE THE BOYS A FINE "SEND-OFF."

At the time the company left Le Mars station on Monday, June 26, 1916, more than half the population of the city were present to say good-bye.

The Sentinel of the day following had this to say about the departure of the company:

"More citizens were astir at an early hour on Monday morning, probably, than ever in the history of the town and long before the time set for the departure of the train, men, women and children were lined up at the depot and on the streets adjoining. The city was gay with flags and bunting, all the principal stores and business places being decorated with the national colors. A large number of automobiles from the country brought people into town to see Company K depart. Automobiles were lined up all the way along Seventh street and in every available spot near the union depot and the railroad tracks.

"It was a brave showing and a proud showing and on the part of many, indeed, a not wholly suppressed showing of regret and sadness.

"All preliminaries to the actual entrainment were completed on Sunday night, and all equipment was ready and packed. The members of the company gathered at the armory hall after early breakfast was eaten at the downtown restaurants and ready to go to the train, which was scheduled to leave at 7:25, but which left nearly an hour later.

"Shortly after seven o'clock the sound of martial music was borne on the breeze of the summer morn to the ears of the waiting crowd and cries were heard of, 'Here they come!'

"The procession was headed by the Le Mars band and then came the members of Mower Post, Grand Army of the Republic, the flag floating proudly above them as they marched. Two hundred boys and girls carrying flags and flowers, marshaled under the leadership of County Superintendent E. H. Plath, A. C. Colledge and E. Plath, came next and presented a pretty appearance. Then came the heroes of the hour, the members of Company K. Their clean, stalwart and business-like appearance drew forth many encomiums, and they were heartily cheered as they marched along the streets. A long line of automobiles and citizens on foot brought up the rear. At the depot two coaches drawn up on a sidetrack became the center of attraction, and the crowd surged around them until the train from Sioux City bringing the Sioux City contingent arrived. The boys quickly clambered into the cars and relieved themselves of their guns and heavy blankets and then many of them climbed out again to say farewell to friends and relatives.

KISSES FOR THE DEPARTING LOVED ONES.

"Good-byes were repeated and mothers, wives, sisters and sweethearts gave fond kisses to their loved ones and friend met friend with hearty handclasp and words of good will and hopes for a safe return.

"The train finally pulled out amid martial strains from the band, cheers, hand-clapping, waving of flags and handkerchiefs and the crowd, quiet and sobered by the impressive and inspiring sight, moved up-town to resume the ordinary avocations of daily life.

"Nineteen cars made up the train, provided by the Illinois Central Railroad for the movement of the guards, Six of them were flatcars on which the twelve vehicles of the amublance company were battened; three were baggage cars and ten were coaches. The train was pulled by locomotive No. 888 which had been festooned by bunting by Roundhouse Foreman L. Hawkins and Trainmaster W. E. Ausman.

"In addition to the Le Mars companies and the two companies from Sioux City, companies from Sheldon and Cherokee joined the train at Cherokee.

"The soldiers arrived at Camp Dodge, Des Moines, Monday evening, in time to pitch tents and eat a hearty supper. Camp Dodge is out from Des Moines eleven miles. This company all took a new oath to serve in the United States service."

The above account of Company K's departure from Le Mars is being written for this, the latest history of Plymouth county, in the month of November, 1916, while the men are still stationed in the vicinity of Brownsville, Texas.

level. There were no select parties, but one was as good as another and shared alike. Everybody was everybody else's friend, and all enjoyed themselves.

THE BEGINNING OF BETTER TIMES.

"The season of 1874 brought forth a good crop. Nearly everyone began to contemplate the making of better improvements. While some overestimated and went into debt what proved more than their ability to pay, the cause of which I will explain later on, the habit of getting together contracted during the revival meetings, could not be easily shaken off. Picnics were held, the Fourth of July celebrated in grand style, and dancing was a popular pastime, old and young assembling to 'trip the light fantastic,' to music furnished by Web LaForge and Alph. Williams. Nor was this all—Morgan Davis, from Grant township, came to the valley and started a singing-class of about forty members. This singing-class continued during the winters of 1874 and 1875, meeting once a week for instructions. At the end of each term a concert was given. Professor Davis was a great musician and an expert at arranging these concerts. He was also ably assisted by his two sisters, Anna and Mary Davis; also by T. J. Reeves, of Seney, north of Le Mars. Tom was an expert with the dulcimer. I can see him now, in imagination, with his little sticks, knocking sweet strains of music out of that little wire instrument, in perfect harmony with his voice, as he sang those good old songs such as 'Silver Threads Among the Gold.' At these concerts was formed my first acquaintance with Tom Reeves, now a resident of Hawarden, where a glad welcome is always extended to all. A few of the members of this singing class still survive, namely: Bart Ogden, Mrs. Bart Ogden, George Stinton, Mrs. Harry Attrill, Charles Rowley, E. J. Bradley, James Bradley, Mrs. C. M. Hilliker, Web and Emerson LaForge and Oliver King.

SOMETHING ABOUT THE EARLY DANCES.

"Now, about our dances; I will tell you how they were conducted. The women folks would prepare a lunch of bread and butter, cold meat (mostly pork or chicken), cake and sometimes pie. The cake was usually plain, sweet cake without any trimmings. These lunches were packed in pails, baskets or anything that would answer the purpose. The conveyance was gotten ready and the whole family, from little babe to grandpa and grandma, would load in (not an automobile or carriage, but the old farm wagon-box, with plenty of hay or straw in the bottom) and here they would cover up (if in cold weather) with quilts, horse blankets or such material as they possessed. The sled or wagon was hauled by a pair of horses or oxen. By the way, the most of the land was broken up by ox-teams and sometimes one or more cows were used in these breaking teams and to do other farm work.

"The arrangements having been made, the dancing party would make for the place decided upon, which would include one of the following neighbors: William Gardner, Ike Jeffries, Ben. Jeffries, Spence Glidden, Oliver King, John Simeon, Mr. Baurley, John Arndt, Mr. Bowles, Mr. Mansfield, William Treeby and many others. Web LaForge and Alph. Williams were always on hand, with their violins, to entertain the company. The visitors generally went early in the evening and the party usually lasted till daylight. Everybody enjoyed themselves from the time they arrived until they departed. The small children were tucked away in some comfortable place as soon as they became sleepy. The fiddles were tuned up and the dances began. About midnight the plates were distributed, the eatables were soon devoured and the dancing was renewed. After this a collection was taken up to help the fiddlers purchase fiddle strings. This is all they required at those parties. No thought was given about dress, as at the present time; but of course every lady wore her best. A lady was not ashamed to wear a calico dress; overalls were good enough for the men. Cowhide boots and shoes were very dressy. While riding these were often wrapped in grain sacks, old discarded bed quilts or anything that would keep the cold away. The enjoyment those parties furnished I honestly believe outrivals any of the present-time parties.

"John Arndt built a large frame building in 1874 to be used as a hall. On the Fourth of July that year a dance was held at this new hall. Mr. Arndt employed all the music that he could for this occasion, Charley Shaw and Dick Nasbert, from the north part of the county, and Web LaForge and Alph Williams, of the valley, furnishing music for the occasion. Two of them would play at a time. When tired the others would take their places. There were eighty numbers, or tickets, sold for this dance. As I look back now, it is a source of wonder where they all came from.

DISPOSITION OF RAILROAD LANDS.

"It will surprise some of my readers to learn that only one-half of the land was open for settlement. Our Uncle Sam had donated every odd section within ten miles on either side of the railroad to assist in building the railroads. Besides, section 16 in each township was given for school purposes.

Does not show address, etc. Says first papers were in Woodbury Co IA on 23 August 1892. Second papers Vol 3 page 352

Not knowing this is our relative for sure, I did not photocopy the final paper. Looking at Simoni Hansen's final paper, the blanks were filled in as follows:

Hans P. Madsen - Denmark - the Clerk of Woodbury County Iowa -

This is the court index book (for actual court use) but no actual papers (microfilm by LDS) copied as in Plymouth County.

As this indicates, Madsen was a rather common name in Woodbury County. However, Hans was the only Madsen naturalized in Plymouth County in that period in time. O'Brien County search yielded nothing. Hansens were 75% from Germany in 3 county area, I presume, with no factual foundation, that they were mostly from around Schlesswig-Holstein because that had recently been Danish. Or near there.

Dear Norma,

I'm so glad you got down to see Mama and were with her before and after the surgery.

I'm just about having fits needing to get down ~~there~~. Allan ~~is~~ not offering ~~much~~ any encouragement about getting there, thinks they're enough there already and she's getting best care. The ~~busses~~ bus drivers are on strike (Greyhound). I doubt if our car would make it down there let alone back. I've never driven any of these new kinds and am afraid to rent one without practice, especially under pressure. Jim works 2 jobs, Peggy has hands full with kids & Job, Pat seems to think I ought to get down there & help. and I need to see Mama for my sake and hers.

There, I've complained. Maybe everybody is not as villanous as I imagine at the moment. And you'd better ~~pitch~~ tear up this letter after you read it. And don't write anything to me ~~that~~ shows I sounded off. Please.

Allan really isn't very well on top of all else - he had ~~that~~ blood clot on his leg last January plus the diabetes. He will retire in Sept.

The enclosed explains itself, I think, especially

PERSONAL GIVEN NAMES

In Denmark, there were very few given names. In the case of male names this was largely because of the patronymical system used. The following list of names amounts to more than 95% of Danish given names in use before 1875.

PATRONYMICS

The patronymic naming system was used in Scandinavia by the vast majority of the population until the latter part of the nineteenth century.
The Scandinavian patronymic is a name formed by the addition of a suffix indicating relationship to the name of the parson's father

Example:

1. Svend, the son of Hans Olsen was known as Svend Hansen.
2. Anna, the daughter of Hans Olsen was known as Anna Hansdatter.

THE FOUR MAJOR SOURCES

A. Parish Registers

The first laws pertaining to the parish registers of Denmark were those of May 20, 1645, to the bishop of Sjælland and May 17, 1646 to the other bishops of Denmark. These laws stipulated that the ministers of local churches were to be instructed to keep parish registers in which were to be recorded lists of births (usually christenings), marriages (betrothals) and deaths (usually burials). However, in more than seventy areas ministers had already started keeping registers, one as early as 1573.

The early Danish parish registers (until 1814) usually contain the following information:

1. Christenings:
    - a) Given name of child
    - b) Father's name and place of residence
    - c) Date of christening
    - d) Names of godfather and godmothers (witnesses, often relatives)
2. Betrothals and Marriages:
    - a) Name of bride and groom and their previous residences
    - b) Dates of engagement and marriage
    - c) Names of sponsors (often relatives) and their residences
3. Burials:
    - a) Name of deceased and last residence (if a minor, the name of his father)
    - b) Date of burial
4. Confirmations:
    - a) Name of child and residence
    - b) Year of confirmation
5. Introduction, Communion & Absolution:
    - a) Name of person involved
    - b) Date of the event

After 1814 the records are more complete since specially printed forms are used in the registers. These later records always list the dates of births and deaths and, for the children born, the mother's name. Under confirmations, they also list the name of the father. Lists of arrivals and removals of persons moving in or out of the parish are also contained in the forms, but these are seldom complete before about 1830. There are also printed forms for an index, but very few ministers used these.

The parish registers are the most important Danish genealogical source. The information they record on godfathers and godmothers (witnesses), who often were close relatives, is particularly helpful because there was very little variety in surnames or given names. It is estimated that approximately 15 male given names accounted for about 90 per cent of all male given names, with a similar proportion for surnames. Consequently, it is imperative that other sources be used in conjunction with the parish registers.

The list of parishes in this guide includes all parishes in existence prior to 1890 with the information in each case as to when the registers begin. (Since 1890, some new parishes have been created in the more populous areas.) In 1850 there were 1,853 parishes in Denmark.

B. Census Returns

Fortunately, the Danish census returns of genealogical value started as early as 1787, are well preserved, and are generally complete for the whole country.

The following census returns are available: 1787, 1801, 1834, 1840, 1845, 1850, 1855, 1860, 1870, 1880, 1890, 1901, 1906 and 1911.

Information recorded in the 1787 and 1801 census returns is as follows:

1. Names of all persons in the household
2. Relationships of those persons to head of house
3. Ages (in years)
4. Occupations
5. How often each person has been married
6. Miscellaneous remarks (e.g., record may mention if a person is blind.)

Types of information recorded in the 1834 and 1840 census returns are the same as those in the previous ones, except that the 1834 and 1840 returns do not list how often a person has been married.

The later census returns record the same types of information as those for 1834 and 1840, and list in addition the place of birth for each person. The 1901 census returns go into more detail than any of the others. Here is found the complete date of birth for each person, and also how many children (living or dead) each married couple has had.

Danes' warm memories make Old Glory at home on their hills

By JOY SCHALEBEN LEWIS
Special to The Journal

ALBORG, DENMARK — Raise the flag, sing the national anthem, light the fireworks. Hurray for the red, white and blue. It's the Fourth of July — in Denmark.

Drums roll and horns blare in a rousing version of "The Stars and Stripes Forever," carrying on the wind to picnicking families on the hills of Rebild. For 78 years, except during the two world wars, this Scandinavian country of 5 million people has celebrated the United States' national birthday at Rebild, the country's only national park, and in Aalborg, a lively city 15 miles from the park.

At Rebild, the flags of the two nations are everywhere. Some Danes wear the Stars and Stripes as a cloak. Many sport hats decorated with American and Danish flags. And along the walk leading down to the park's natural amphitheater is a special tribute to America's states — flags from across the nation.

Denmark's commemoration of our nation's birthday is impressive: stirring oratory by prominent Danes and Americans, heartfelt sing-alongs of American songs, spirited folk and square dancing, a US Air Force marching band in dress whites, a California high school band with acrobatic pompon girls.

To applause that surges to the highest hill, the Danish ambassador to the United States and the American ambassador to Denmark deliver eloquent greetings from the queen of Denmark and the president of the United States.

Visiting Americans look on with amazement. This isn't their nation's capital. This is the land of Hans Christian Andersen, of Hamlet's castle. So why all of the excitement over the Yankees' Fourth of July?

The answer sounds like an Andersen fairy tale. The story begins 13 decades ago.

From the mid-1880s through about 1900, one of every 10 Danes left his or her native country for America. The Danes did not leave for political reasons. Rather, many were poor farmers, and they sought fresh soil, better economic chances, opportunity to educate their children. Most settled in the upper Midwest, particularly Wisconsin.

In 1912, two Danish immigrants, Max Henius of Chicago and Ivar Kirkegaard of Racine, founded the Danish-American Society. One of their first acts on behalf of the society was to return to Denmark and purchase 200 acres of land near Aalborg, an old port city on the sailboat-dotted Lim Fiord about 160 miles northwest of Copenhagen. This was Rebild.

Centuries ago, wandering Visigoths revered this tranquil area of heather-laden hills and verdant woods. Sadly, the Danish-American Society found that most of the beloved heather had gone under the plow.

So members of the society replanted the heather and honored the country of their birth by donating the treasured land to Denmark. But they also wanted to honor the nation that had welcomed 500,000 Danish immigrants. So the society told King Christian X: In accepting this land, there is just one very important stipulation. America's Fourth of July must be celebrated in Rebild every year.

Chris Thomsen went home to retire but hasn't forgotten the US.

His Majesty agreed.

King Christian X himself dedicated the area as a national park, a lasting symbol of the close friendship between the United States and Denmark. Though "The Star-Spangled Banner" is sung only on the Fourth of July in Rebild, visitors are reminded of the American-Danish relationship all through the year.

A large log cabin, constructed in 1934 as a memorial museum, symbolizes homes built by immigrants in the mid-1880s. Each of America's then 48 states contributed a log.

Over the years, Rebild's extraordinary gala has featured many notable speakers, including Walter Cronkite, Earl Warren, Walt Disney, Hubert Humphrey, Raymond Burr, Richard Nixon, Jean Hersholt, Danny Kaye, Ronald Reagan, George Bush, Art Buchwald, Walter Schirra, Pat Boone and Dionne Warwick.

Please see Fourth page 4

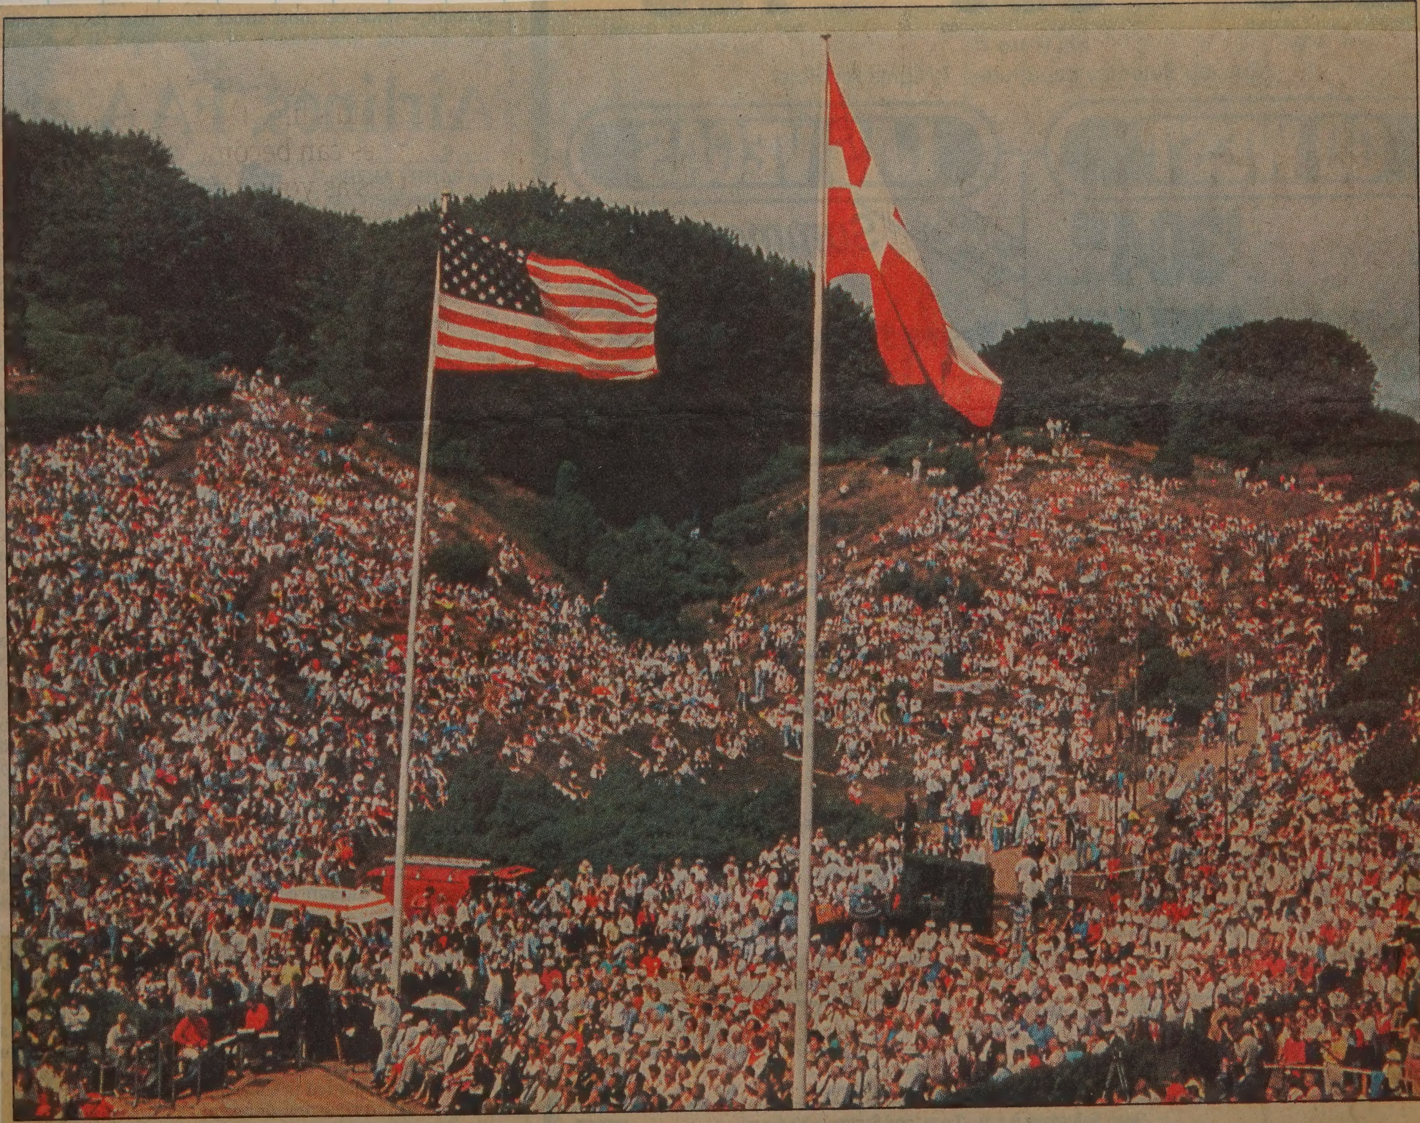
As Old Glory is raised to fly beside the red and white Dannebrog, the flag of Denmark, Danes stand and cheer. Visitors from the US beam like Olympic gold medal winners.

"I've never felt so appreciated as an American," said Elaine Boettcher, a teacher who is from Oak Park, Ill., as she stood to sing her national anthem.

"Just gives me goose bumps all over," said Chris Thomsen, who was carrying a huge American flag, brought from the States when he left a year ago to retire to the land of his birth.

Munching hot dogs and licking ice cream cones wrapped in red, white and blue, the audience eagerly follows the festivities. When an afternoon shower intrudes, the Danes are prepared. As square dancers do-si-do, their fuchsia skirts twirling, 30,000 umbrellas magically appear.



Each year, the hills of Rebild in Denmark echo the sounds of a typical American Fourth of July, a reminder of the family ties that join the two nations.

Fourth/Danish-Americans' gift keeps old glories alive and kicking

With fine food and lots to do, Aalborg makes a genial host

THE FOURTH of July festivities in Aalborg extend from July 1 through July 4. Although a few events are by invitation only and others charge admission, many are free, including concerts by the US Air Force Europe Band and the Radio Denmark Girls' Choir and the Danish-American Garden Party.

In Aalborg, information on all events as well as tickets may be obtained at the July 4th Reception and Registration Office at the Hotel Hvide Hus.

Buses for the ceremonies at Rebild leave from the hotel at 11 a.m. The round trip costs about $11. Admission to the Rebild celebration costs about $4. The main speakers this year will be actor Richard Chamberlain and Denmark's Crown Prince Frederik.

Near Rebild is an unusual art gallery. In an old chalk mine at Thingbaek are about 100 gypsum sculptures by A.J. Bundgaard and C.J. Bonnesen. Bronzes cast from these models decorate city squares throughout Denmark.

Aalborg's many fine attractions include: the Museum of Fine Art, which houses outstanding works by Danish and other 20th-century masters; a castle dating to 1539; a historical museum featuring a room from 1602; and a monastery with frescos from the 14th century.

Everyone enjoys the zoo and Tivoliland, a beautifully landscaped amusement park.

Aalborg's most treasured landmark is the five-story Jens Bang's House, one of the finest examples of Renaissance domestic architecture in northern Europe.

Though Bang was the richest man for miles, he never became a member of the town council. You can see what he thought about that. On the home's south facade is Bang's face, sticking its tongue out at Town Hall.

Dining in Aalborg seems to be good wherever you go, and you won't go wrong if you order the fish of the day. A local newspaper has proclaimed Stygge Krumpen as the city's best restaurant because of its splendid lunch smorgasbord and savory meat and seafood dishes in the evening. Cafe Rendez Vous is very popular among locals.

One of Aalborg's favorite family restaurants is Regensen, where steak is served on hot iron plates.

The town's best-known wine cellar is Duus, which is housed under the stone arches of Jens Bang's House. Duus specialties are warm liver-paste sandwiches and cheese dishes.

The white beaches and dunes of the North Sea are about a 45-minute drive west of Aalborg. Here you'll find a number of resort communities.

The North Sea is chilly, and the currents can be rough. To protect themselves from the wind, bathers rent oversized wicker chairs with awning covers.

The waters of the Kattegat Sea, less than an hour's drive east of Aalborg, are much warmer and calmer.

Aalborg is easily accessible by train, bus or air, with Scandinavian Airlines (SAS) providing excellent daily service from Copenhagen.

For information on accommodations in Aalborg or about Fourth of July festivities, contact the Aalborg Tourist Bureau, 8 Ostera, DK-9000, Aalborg, Denmark, or the Danish Tourist Office, 655 3rd Ave., New York, N.Y. 10017; telephone (212) 949-2333.

— JOY SCHALEBEN LEWIS

Steep green slopes, tiered with rippling banners, suddenly are aflower with shimmering awnings of red, yellow, blue, purple and orange.

Rebild's square dancers don't have to travel far. These dashing Texas-style dancers live in Aalborg.

Aalborg is an easy-to-walk-about city of 155,000 people, who greet every stranger with a merry, "God dag" (good day). Denmark's fourth largest metropolis, this commercial community of half-timbered houses, 300 restaurants, museums and amusement parks is the cultural center of northern Jutland.

More than a thousand years ago, it was a key Viking stronghold. The Norsemen's largest burial ground in all of Scandinavia is here — 682 tombs beneath a broad greensward are marked with large rocks, many set in the shape of a ship.

Though Danes are fiercely proud of their heritage, they have mellowed over the years. Norwegians call them "sot" (sweet) because they are so darn nice. They greet friends — even day-old friends — with affectionate hugs, and they smother rosy-cheeked children with kisses.

In Aalborg, as everywhere in Denmark, folks are keen about bicycles and pedestrian shopping streets. The old section of the city has an abundance of both. The best-loved and liveliest street is Jomfru Ane Gade — Virgin Ann in English. Lined with discos, restaurants, jazz spots and pubs, Jomfru Ane behaves as if the sun never sets. In summer, that's almost true.

In this latitude, the Scandinavian sun doesn't draw its shades and go to bed until practically the stroke of midnight. And the long hours of daylight on the Fourth of July mean that the fireworks don't begin until midnight. So there's plenty of time to enjoy both the ceremonies at Rebild and the flavor of Aalborg.

In the morning, a parade struts through the old town. Although kids don't decorate bikes and baby buggies with crepe paper as they do in the States, marching bands blare out Sousa favorites as fervently as any VFW brass band.

With the sun finally retired, the night sky flames with the fresh light of spinning pinwheels, bursting rockets and shooting fountains.

"Til lykke paa dagen, Amerika!" Congratulations, America, on your birthday.

Iowa - Plymouth - Naturalization & Citizenship (Reviewed 9/30/92 FHL Salt Lake)

LDS film # 1,415,725   Court records(?) copy of actual papers
Vol 4 & 5 - 1895-1906 (See photocopies)

1,404,995 (starts) 1910 thru 1913 contains many petitions - too late for us. A search for Simoni Hansen's petition was not fruitful - probably before 1894
After reviewing the records on film I found the same material in print - book 977.7 D2 (sa?) in the library at Salt Lake City. Exactly the same info as films.
Simoni Hansen emigrated in 1892 - not 1890 as obituary states }
Probably away at school at time of 1890 Danish census. }

137 9370 Alpha Index 1869-1906 - on cards (Plymouth Co IA)

Hansen, Simoni
Address (blank) Iowa   Certif. Vol & page 4-212   Dist - Plymouth Co. IA
Country of birth, etc Denmark   Where born, etc (blank)
Port of arrival (blank)   Date of naturalization 23 Oct 1897
First papers 1-425   Second papers 4-212

(Note: I photocopied these 9/30/92) (We know the family was living at Sheldon when our dad was born & when he married second wife, but I cannot yet find records of them living there in O'Brien Co. Court records)

(Book in Library # 977.716 B31) Iowa Newspapers indexed by NW IA Gen Soc, Le Mars
Vol 1-5, page 7 (cross-indexed in M's but this last not photocopied)

"HANSEN, Simoni & Karen Christine Madsen Marr Lic *5 Nov p 2 col 2"
(this last is newspaper date, not that of ceremony) (See photocopy)

Birth Records, Plymouth Co IA 1892-1900 do not show Arthur S. Hansen's birth 977.716 V 25 Neither do films I found. (There is a remote possibility his birth certificate or a marriage certificate might give Karen's birthplace - and the latter her father's & mother names.) Born at Sheldon?

The following may have nothing at all to do with Karen & Simoni, but copied because of the similarity in names: The same Le Mars Sentinel had this -

2 different issues {
N. Christian Hansen & Miss Madsen marr. 10 Oct 1895 (*14 Oct paper p 3 col 2)
Nels Christian Hansen & Sign Madsen (* Nov 1895 p 4 col 7 - marriage lic.)

make first class hay. The usual varieties of soil are found in this county, rich on the prairies, but richer on the bottom lands, which follow the courses of the principal streams, where the rich vegetable mold is strengthened by a tenacious subsoil of clay. The bluff deposit, with an admixture of mold, makes the soil of the uplands, and the value of such lands to the farmer needs no elucidation.

Quarries are not found in this county, but there are numerous boulders which serve the purposes of building stone, quick lime and other such demands, pretty well. Good bricks are made from the bluff formation, consequently there is no difficulty in erecting substantial fire proof buildings.

Coal has not been found in this county, and consequently the dependence of the people for fuel must be placed in groves of timber, unless distant sources of supply are sought.

Water has been found wherever it has been sought, for stock purposes, and food being abundant, there will be excellent returns obtainable by farmers who give their attention to this pursuit in addition to agriculture.

The first settlement was made in 1856, when some men brought their families here from Bremer county, and made their homes. The county was organized in 1860, and the seat of administration was located at O'Brien, a town of some note in the southeastern angle of the county. This was the principal settlement in O'Brien county at that time, and long afterwards, until the Sioux City and St. Paul Railroad was constructed. When the permanent location of the county seat came to be determined in the year 1872, a vote of the people was given in favor of the county seat being established in the center. There was no town at that point, but there was no difficulty in making a start. The town of Pringhar was founded immediately, and the glory departed from the place which bore the same name as the county.

PRINGHAR, the county seat since the year 1872, is not extensive, but it is well laid out, with a fine park, and much hope of advancement. The names of the men who were engaged in laying off the county seat were robbed of their initials, and the stringing together of these first letters made the appellation Pringhar; hence the nomination. The surrounding country is very fertile, and the future of the place may be considered assured. The town is well drained, and is situated on a fine section of prairie.

SHELDON is in the northwest of the county, on the line of the Sioux City and St. Paul Railroad, situated on a beautiful prairie, which rises from the line of travel, and slopes back to the higher lands back of the town. The first house was erected here soon after the railroad was opened, in January, 1873, and the business transacted at this depot will eventually build up a large local trade.

O'Brien takes a back seat now in the county, of which it was the first settlement, and most important place. The position of the village rendered a change necessary, when a more general settlement took place over the county, but the place is really very picturesque and well situated on a plateau seventy-five feet above the level of the Little Sioux river. The river incloses O'Brien as if in a horse shoe, and the high banks on the side opposite the village, constitute quite a pleasing variety in the landscape. The country in the neighborhood is very fertile, and when shipping facilities come to this locality, as in course of time they must come, there will be a beautiful and prosperous city where O'Brien now stands.

Osceola County stands in the northern tier of counties, second from the western boundary of Iowa, and its superficial area is three hundred and ninety-two square miles. The county is like most of the counties in Iowa, well drained and well watered. The east fork of Rock river is one of the main water courses, and besides that, the Ocheydan, the Otter, and several smaller creeks contribute their aid toward the complete irrigation and thorough drainage of this area. The streams mentioned run through valleys of acknowledged fertility and much beauty.

The farmer finds in this little county a vast area of land ready for the plow, but without timber enough for fences, buildings and fuel, and in consequence, settlers will have many troubles to encounter from which they are saved elsewhere. There are no stratified rocks exposed in this county, but boulders, which were left here during the glacial period are scattered over the surface in great plenty, and upon these most of the people will rely for the erection of their dwellings, unless they procure lumber from a distance. The St. Paul and Sioux City railroad crossed the county in 1872, and since that time there has been traffic across the territory from and to other points, but some time must elapse before there can be any large amount of commerce arising in Osceola county. The soil is rich, with vegetable mold overlying the drift formation, from which excellent crops will be obtained, but the want of wood is a great drawback for the present.

The first white settlement here took place in 1870, but it was not until the following year that the county began to be permanently inhabited, and in the following year a separate organization of Osceola county was effected. Until that date Woodbury and Osceola had been unequally yoked together.

SIBLEY was the first town laid out in Osceola county, and it is the county seat. The Sioux City and St. Paul Railroad Company laid out and named the town in honor of one of the prominent men in that organization, but the youth of the town leaves very little to be said as to its progress. There is a good court house in Sibley, which cost $5,000, and there is a newspaper published here, but the population is small.

The first school was taught here in 1871, and there is now a commodious school house which cost nearly $4,000, well provided with all the best means of arresting the attention of youth. When the resources of this county are developed, this town must partake largely in its prosperity, as there is here a first class shipping station.

ST. GILMAN is also a railroad station, seven miles southwest of Sibley, but it is waiting for the country to be developed before any considerable growth can be realized.

Page County is the second east from the Missouri, near the southwestern angle of Iow[illegible] general surface is undulating and th[illegible] is well drained in consequence of its configuration. Creeks and streams of various dimensions carry off all surplus water, and there are no swamps to poison the air with their miasmatic exhalations. The bluff formation in this region alternates with, and in some instances has been found mixed with the drift deposits, and the soil resulting from these changes may be praised very highly. The prairie, wherever the plow has not touched it, is covered with a fine crop of native grass, such as few tame grasses could excel, but as a rule the prairie is cut up into profitable farms.

The rivers Nodaway and Nishnabotany flow through beautiful valleys, which owe their richness of soil and picturesque appearance, very greatly to the larger streams which once rushed like a torrent, where those gentle and translucent waters flow calmly on toward the turbid flood of the Missouri river. Along these valleys, with their emerald slopes mounting toward the prairie uplands, there are some very choice farms whose owners have settled down for life, and are making everything around them as charming as their art will enable them to accomplish. The slopes are, in some places, more abrupt than in others. Along some parts of both streams the valley stretches from half a mile to one mile across, and then the ascent commences rising from one hundred to one hundred and fifty feet. Sometimes there are ravines down which large streams must have coursed their way from the prairies ages ago, and these breaks in the scene are truly delightful. The ravine usually has some little rivulet towards its center, serving the purpose of drainage for the upland, and reminding one of days in which currents were stronger and streams more powerful.

The drainage of the county is secured by many streams. The Nodaway is represented by both branches, east and west. The Tarkio, East, Middle and West, and all their tributaries, flow toward the southwest, and along every stream there are springs which feed the running creeks and rivers and give the very best water for stock and domestic use during all seasons of the year. Wells can be made serviceable for all the year, on the bottoms, by sinking from twenty to thirty feet, and on the uplands by sinking a depth of from seventy-five to eighty feet. The well water is good, and the springs are equally good but not quite so cool.

These records were copied from the original Court House records. Every effort has been made to record these records as accurately as possible. There were many variations in the spelling of names, we have recorded them as they were in the original records. Earlier Plymouth County, Iowa Birth Records 1871-1891 can be found in "Northwest Iowa Pioneers" by Janice Stofferan & Dorothy Warren.

② Looks like we arent going to make it to town this Winter. The furnace has to be checked. A different hot water heater Will have to be put in + Connected nearer the main Water system. Since its gotten Cold Jim doesn't feel like going under the house and seeing about it & it might be hard to get a plumber to do it in cold Weather. If he just doesn't get bad sick everything is handy here. Our fuel oil heat will be a lot but thats O.K We will be careful as we can with it.

I am sending you a letter Mama wrote you in 1923. Thought you would like to have it.

Hope you are well and that the snow Wont give you as much trouble, now that your Garage is Close to the street.

As usual when it gets cold Jim doesn't breath as well. Im glad we dont have the Cattle. We loved it though when We were able to fool with them. Mark Will have to cut ice and feed everyday so he Will keep the roads open. Have a nice Christmas

Love Mama + Daddy

I finally had pictures finished from your negatives. Sent some pictures (the Best) to Don Jim, Marge Shirley & will send to Pearl, Henry & Martha. I will take good care of negatives, If you want them I will send them to you

Dear Norma

Merry Christmas to you. I have been wondering if Mickey will get home for Christmas. It would be nice if she could come. You will be with Janine part of the day I'm sure, so you will have some of your family with you. I worry Janine will work too hard; she has so much ambition.

We will go to Pats on Christmas day I think. If nothing goes wrong they will go get Dennis the 24th. He gets five days. He has been in Honor Dorm for a while now. His parole hearing comes up Jan. 9 He thinks he will get out, I don't know. There will be a six or seven year probution. He doesnt like that. I'm not him, but if it was me, I believe I would just stay out my time & have a clear slate. I dread for him to be back as it will be terribly hard for him to find a job. He will get pushed around & that might make him go back to his old ways.

I was born in the Kansas City Kansas suburb of Rosedale, Wyandotte County on 08 July 1923 and gone days after my second birthday due to unfortunate circumstances and certainly had no impact on County history.

But it is natural to wonder about how the place got its name and what went on way back when.

For the Indians it was the same old story of upheaval and relocation forced on them by whites desiring their land, broken treaties, etc. But the Wyandottes were now Christian (former Hurons) and half-French farmers from Ohio. Reading this, it appears that many adopted English names and melted into the population. Others moved on, selling the homesteads (80 acres) the families had been allotted. The county was appropriately named.

ward. North of the base line (now State line) they ran standard parallels from the meridian line to the Missouri River at intervals of twenty-four miles; and south of the base line they ran standard parallels from the meridian line to the Missouri River at intervals of thirty miles, all this preparatory to subdividing the territory into townships and ranges. As soon as the second standard parallel south of the base line was run and established, contracts were let to deputy United States surveyors for the subdivision and sectionizing of the Wyandotte reservation. The first contract for this purpose was awarded to Deputy Surveyor Colwell, who in the same year surveyed and subdivided fractional Township 10 south, Range 25 east. Contracts were let to other deputy surveyors, and the subdivision of the reservation was soon thereafter completed. A contract was let to Mr. ———, who employed Thomas J. Barker, now of Kansas City, Kas., to assist him, but on going to his work he by mistake went to a township that had been surveyed, and did actually resurvey a portion of it, claiming that it was in his contract; on being convinced of his error, he stopped work, got on a "big drunk," and made no further survey of the reservation.

After the surveys were completed, and the Indians received titles to the lands allotted to them in the last treaty, they began, in the winter of 1856–57, to dispose of their lands to the white settlers. However, as they were not obliged to sell, some of them remained as long as they lived. But the great bulk of them sold out, and moved to their present location in the Indian Territory, where it is said that over 200 of them yet survive.

While speaking of the early settlers of Wyandotte County, it is well to mention a number of prominent Wyandotte Indians, who were civilized and considerably enlightened, had improved the country, were here and became citizens by treaty in 1855, when the settlement by the whites actually began. They had dropped their Indian titles and assumed English names. Among the most prominent ones who had settled on and about the present site of the city of Kansas, were William Walker, once a chief of the Wyandottes, who lived on what is now Halleck Street, south of Troup Avenue, and Joel Walker, his brother, who lived west of Third Street, between Oakland and Everett Avenues, and Isaiah Walker, their nephew, who lived on Freeman Avenue, between Eighth and Ninth Streets. Matthew R. Walker lived where Fowler's large residence now stands, west of Walnut Street and near Troup Avenue. Silas Armstrong lived at the present northwest corner of Minnesota Avenue and Fifth Street in a brick house. Mrs. Matilda Hicks lived on the north side of Quindaro Boulevard, between Eighth and Ninth Streets. Isaac W. Brown lived on the southeast corner of State and Fourth Streets, and the council-house stood on the northeast corner of the same streets. The council-house was a frame building. Matthias Splitlog lived on what was then known as Splitlog's Hill. He was a Mohawk Indian, but his wife was a Wyandotte. Mrs. Hannah Armstrong, the mother-in-law of Splitlog, lived in what is now the southern part of the city on a tract of land traversed by the Union Pacific Railway. Mrs. Lucy B. Armstrong resided at what is now called Wyandotte Place, near the Northwestern depot, her present residence.

Charles B. Garrett, a white man who married a sister of the Walkers, resided east of Seventh Street, between Virginia and Garfield Avenues. H. M. Northrup, also a white man, and now the president of the Northrup Banking Company, who had previously settled on the Missouri side of the river, settled in Wyandotte in 1855, and lived in a log house on the south side of what is now Minnesota Avenue, at the crossing of Eighth Street. At the same time Isaac Zane, a Wyandotte, lived in a brick house on what is known as the Hurla tract. It is said of him, that he worked seven years in the vain attempt to invent perpetual motion. George I. Clark, a Wyandotte, lived north of the present Quindaro Boulevard, between Seventeenth and Eighteenth Streets, where E. D. Brown now resides. In the spring of 1858 the erysipelas prevailed in this new settlement with much fatality, and among those who died with the disease were Mr. Clark and his wife and daughter. Mr. Charles B. Garrett and Mr. H. M. Northrup, being connected with the Wyandottes by marriage, were adopted as members of their tribe and council. The others mentioned were mostly half-breeds with the whites, and, therefore, have been prominently mentioned here as early settlers.

The following communication, written by Mr. D. B. Hadley, and which was published in the Kansas City Globe of February 10, 1890, gives considerable information concerning the noted Indian named Splitlog, and some others. It reads as follows:

"In 1857 the Wyandotte City Company bought the land out of which they platted Wyandotte City. While negotiating with owners of property here, the secretary of the company, W. T. Roberts, applied to Matthias Splitlog to purchase his allotment, which lies in the southeastern part of the land desired for the city. Splitlog listened atten-

AND, WHEREAS, the said treaty having been submitted to the Senate of the United States, for its constitutional action thereon, the Senate did on the twentieth day of February, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-five, advise and consent to the ratification of its articles, by the following resolution:

In executive session, Senate of the United States, February 20, 1855.

Resolved (two-thirds of the Senators present concurring), That the Senate advise and consent to the ratification of the articles of agreement and convention made and concluded at the city of Washington, on the thirty-first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-five, by George W. Mannypenny, as commissioner on the part of the United States, and the following named chiefs and delegates of the Wyandott tribe of Indians, viz.: Tau-roo-mee, Mathew Mudeater, John Hicks, Silas Armstrong, George I. Clark and Joel Walker, they being thereto duly authorized by said tribe.

ASBURY DICKENS, Secretary.

Now, therefore, be it known, that I, FRANKLIN PIERCE, President of the United States of America, do, in pursuance of the advice and consent of the Senate as expressed in their resolution of February twentieth, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-five, accept, ratify, and confirm the said treaty.

In testimony whereof, I have caused the seal of the United States to be hereto affixed, having signed the same with my hand.
[L.S.] Done at the city of Washington, this first day of March, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fifty-five, and of the Independence of the United States, the seventy-ninth.

By the President, FRANKLIN PIERCE.

W. L. Marcy, Secretary.

Soon after the Wyandottes ceded their lands to the Government, in 1855, the surveyor-general for the Territory of Kansas, Mr. John Calhoun, came here and established his office in a double log house which stood at what is now the northeast corner of State Avenue and Fourth Street, partly in the street. The same year Col. Charles A. Manners and Joseph Ludlow accompanied by Mr. Thomas J. Barker, a pioneer citizen still living in old Wyandotte, and others, surveyed and established the line between the present States of Kansas and Nebraska from the Missouri River west to the point selected by them for the crossing of the Sixth Principal Meridian. One of these gentlemen then extended the meridian northward and the other extended it south-

Garlow, William Walker, George I. Clark, Benjamin N. C. Anderson, Matthew R. Walker, Samuel Priestly, Henry Garrett, William Gibson, Presley Muir, Joel Walker, Isaac Brown, James Long, John Lynch, William Trowbridge, John W. Ladd, Daniel McNeal, Edward Fifer, Peter D. Clark and Henry W. Porter. Besides the importance of this event, the list of names here given serves to show who many of the Wyandottes were at this date.

Abelard Guthrie received every vote cast, and went to Washington as the duly accredited delegate of the Territory to the XXXIId Congress.

By a treaty dated January 31, 1855, the Wyandottes ceded their reservation here to the United States, and by the terms of the treaty, the United States deeded the lands back to them in severalty, giving to each a sufficient number of acres to make up the value of his or her share, so that all did not receive the same number of acres, but the same amount in value. The lands of the reservation were all deeded back except the Indian graveyard—mentioned elsewhere in this work—a large church lot to each of the religious denominations known as the Methodist Episcopal and the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and four acres at the ferry landing, and perhaps other small tracts for public uses. This treaty granted to the Wyandottes the privilege of becoming citizens, and the country was opened to the settlement by the whites upon buying lands of such Indians as chose to sell, the Government having no land in the reservation subject to entry. About the same time the lands lying south of the Kansas River became subject to settlement by a treaty between the United States and the Shawnees.

The Delawares holding the lands west of and adjoining the Wyandotte Reservation continued to possess them, and in May, 1860, by treaty each member of the tribe was assigned eighty acres of land, to be held in severalty, and preference of purchasing the remainder of the Delaware land, at not less that $1.25 per acre, was given to the Leavenworth, Pawnee & Western Railroad Company. By means of the purchase of this company, a slight settlement of that part of the county by the whites commenced soon after.

By a subsequent treaty with the Delawares dated June 4, 1866, the Secretary of the Interior was authorized to sell what then remained unsold of the Delaware lands to the Missouri River Railroad Company, at not less than $2.50 per acre. Accordingly, by the terms of the treaty, in order to vest every holder of the real estate with a title from the Government, all the lands were deeded in trust to Alexander Colwell, now in Wyandotte County lying north of the Kansas River. And then, or soon thereafter, the Shawnee Indians, by treaty or otherwise, claimed a large tract of country lying immediately south of the Kansas River.

The following account pertaining to the last occupancy by the Indians of the territory now embraced in Wyandotte County, given by Rev. John G. Pratt, now the oldest citizen in the county, and published in the Andreas' State History, is here presented for the benefit of the reader:

"That part of the country on the north side of the Kansas River was first settled by the Delawares in 1829. They came from Ohio, and brought with them a knowledge of agriculture, and many of them habits of industry. They opened farms, built houses and cut out roads along the ridges and divides; also erected a frame church at what is now the village of White Church. The south side of the Kansas River was settled by the Shawnee Indians in 1823. They also afterward came from Ohio, and were about as much advanced in civilization as the Delawares. They had a Methodist Mission some three miles from Westport a long time, it being presided over by Rev. Mr. Johnson; also a Quaker Mission about two miles west of that. The population of the Delaware tribe when it first settled in Kansas was 1,000. It was afterward reduced to 800. This was in consequence of contact with the wilder tribes, who were as hostile to the short-haired Indians as they were to the whites. Still the Delawares would venture out hunting buffalo and beaver, to be inevitably overcome and destroyed. Government finally forbade their leaving the reservation. The effect of this order was soon apparent in the steady increase of the tribe, so that when they removed in 1867 they numbered 1,160. The ruling chiefs from 1829 to 1867 were Ne-con-he-con, Qui-sha-to-wha (Capt. John Ketchum), Nah-ko-mund (Capt. Anderson), Kock-a-to-wha (Sar-cox-ie), Charles Johnnycake, Qua-con-now-ha (James Sacondine or Secundine), Ah-cah-chick (James Connor) and Capt. John Connor."

"Capt. John Ketchum, one of the most noted chiefs of the Delawares, died in August, 1857. He lived near White Church, on the Lawrence road, and at the time of his death, which occurred at an advanced age, he was almost helpless. His funeral was attended by a large number of Indians, who came in their colored blankets and painted faces, carrying their guns."

In 1842 the Wyandotte Indians in Ohio, by treaty sold their lands in that State to the United States, and the following year they were called Hurons by the French. When the French settled C they were on the Island of Montreal, and were very numerous part of them went to Quebec, and a part south of the great lakes. 1829 a small band of them lived on Huron River in Michigan, but principal portion settled on the headwaters of the Sandusky River Ohio, whence they afterward came to Kansas. Those that remov to the reservation here were nearly all known as half-breeds, but ma of them had more white than Indian blood in their veins. A few wh men, who married into the tribe, were adopted as members there and were prominent in their councils. Besides being civilized their reservation in Ohio many of these Indians were Christiani by the mission work of Christian denominations, notably the Meth ist Episcopal in Ohio. Subsequently many of them were very respe able and prominent in the settlement and organization of Wyando County, and some of the best and most prominent citizens of t county to-day are descendants in part from these people. Unfo unately many of the Wyandottes, like their white brethren, were t fond of "fire water."

Jane Tilles, a white girl, adopted into the tribe in Ohio, came her as a member of the family of Silas Armstrong. She afterward mar ried James Bennett, who was elected chief of the Wyandottes, and afte his death she married William Cook, a prominent business man o Wyandotte. She is now living on Emerson Avenue, between Sixth and Seventh Streets.

In 1843, when the Wyandottes came, Kansas City, Mo., contained three warehouses (those of the Town Company, Francis Chouteau, or rather the American Fur Company, and that of W. G. & G. W. Ewing), two or three small trading houses, and a few log cabins, mostly occupied by Frenchmen. It was then known only as Westport Landing.

In the summer of 1852 the organization of a Territory claimed the attention of the leading men of the Wyandotte Nation, which resulted in issuing a call for an election for delegates to Congress. The election was held October 12, of that year. George I. Clark, Samuel Priestly and Matthew R. Walker acted as judges, and William Walker and Benjamin C. Anderson as clerks. Thirty-five votes were polled, and the following is the order in which they were received: Charles B. Garrett, Isaac Baker, Jose Antonio Pieto, Henry C. Norton, Abelard Guthrie, Henry C. Long, Cyrus Garrett, Francis Cotter, Edward B. Hand, Francis A. Hicks, Russell Garrett, Samuel Rankin, Nicholas Cotter, Joel W. Garrett, Isaac Long, Thomas Coon Hawk, James WYANDOTTE COUNTY, Kas., is situated at the confluence of the Missouri and Kansas Rivers, in the extreme eastern portion of the State, and is bounded on the west and partially on the north by Leavenworth County, also on the north and northeast by the Missouri River, which separates it from the State of Missouri; on the east by the Missouri River, Kansas City in Missouri, and the Missouri State line, and on the south by Johnson County, the Kansas River forming the dividing line a part of the way. It contains portions of Townships 10 and 11, south of the base line, in Ranges 23, 24 and 25, east of the sixth principal meridian, and a portion of Township 12 south, in Range 23 east. It also lies in the southern part of the fortieth degree of north latitude, and in the western part of the ninety-fifth degree of longitude west from Greenwich, England. According to the rectangular system of United States surveys, it contains an area of about 153 square miles or 97,920 acres.

23, about twelve miles west of Wyandotte City, where he still resides, and established a Baptist mission among the Delaware Indians. Mr. Pratt has published several hymn books in the Delaware language, one of which was printed at the Wyandotte Herald office. He was appointed agent for the Delawares, by President Lincoln. One of his sons married a daughter of Charles Journeycake, a well-known Delaware chief. His eldest daughter married Col. Samuel Black, of Leavenworth. In 1842 John C. Fremont, on an expedition, visited Cyprian Chouteau's trading post on the Kansas River, and then with Kit Carson as his guide proceeded farther up the river. The next year Fremont went up this river on a second expedition.

In the early part of the nineteenth century, when the United States became possessed of the extensive Territory of Louisiana, the Pawnee Indians claimed possession and ownership of a large tract of country including what is now Wyandotte County. The Pawnees were a powerful and warlike tribe, and for a century they maintained sway over the country embraced by the branches of the Kansas River, and over the whole region watered by the Platte, from near the Rocky Mountains to its mouth. They were divided into several villages or bands, one of which, the Pawnee Republic, gave its name to the Republican River. The Otoes, Omahas and other tribes acknowledged the superiority of the Pawnees, and lived under their protection. In 1832, however, all these tribes were ravaged by the small-pox, and it is said that the Pawnees then lost half their population. The following year, by treaty, they disposed of, to the United States, all their claims to the land lying south of the Platte River, and agreed to locate themselves north of that river and west of the Missouri. This they did. But large bodies of Sioux came down on their new settlements, and drove them back with great slaughter. Some returned to their old villages; others joined their allies, the Otoes and Omahas. They continued to be unfortunate, and by the ravages of wars and disease rapidly dwindled in numbers. [T. G. Adams' Homestead Guide.]

But later the Kansas or Kaw Indians claimed to have, in a great measure, supplanted the Pawnees in their right to the occupancy of their country, and by treaty dated June 3, 1825, they (the Kaws) ceded to the United States a tract of territory including what is now embraced in Wyandotte County. Subsequently, early in the thirties, the United States granted to the Delaware Indians a large reservation in the purchase from the Kaw Indians, which included all of what is

Dear Norma:

Your recent letter to the Plymouth County Clerk of Courts was turned over to us as they do not have time to do genealogy research.

You will find enclosed the Marriage Register & Marriage Record for Carrie Madsen & Simoni Hansen.

We looked for a death certificate for Karen Hansen and did not find one. We also checked the Plymouth County Cemetery files and found no record of her death or burial. I checked the Beely Fissel Funeral Home records for that period and found nothing. We checked the City Hall Cemetery Plot records and did not find a record of her burial. We did find Simoni Hansens & it follows:
Simoni Hansen #3545
age 86 died: 30 April 1958 Buried Blk 18 Lot 77 Mauer Funeral Home

I checked the LeMars Sentinel Newspaper index 1890 through 1904 but found no item about the death of Karen Hansen. Sorry

I have enclosed Census Records for 1900 & 1910 and hope that they will be useful to you.

The Northwest Iowa Genealogy Society will do research upon request, the first hour is free and any additional time is $5.00 per hour.

Thank you for sending the check for $15.00, we have used that amout for this search.

Do you have any idea what church they might have belonged to, we could check for church records.

The poem was chosen because I thought the ladies would like it.

Decided to make a few extras for relatives & Friends.

The ladies didn't get a fancy "homespun" envelope so you're special,

Wishing you all the Blessings of the Season.

Love Billie.

Be careful putting the card back in the envelope. It snags the trim.

Dear Norma, Merry Christmas

This is the Christian Church (Discipiles of Christ) of Kingston, Mo.

Among the 12 or 13 Founders were the Rev. Dwight Dodge, his daughter Emma Adelia and Emmas future husband Lemuel Dunn.

They were the Great Grandfather and grandparents of Ada [White] Yoakum who resides in Kingston Mo.

Rev. Dodge brought his family from Cayuga Co., N.Y about 1844. This included his wife Lydia Woodman [Pearce] Dodge and daughter Emma who was 5. They came part way by steamboat and part way by covered wagon.

Lemuel Dunn, originally from Mercer Co., Ky, came with his 1st wife Sarah McCoy and their children from Orange Co., Indiana. 1842. When Sarah died he married Emma Dodge.

I was working on a drawing of this Church for a picture I hope to paint, at the same time I was pondering a Christmas card design for the "Tuesday Painters" ladies I ~~meet~~ meet with every week (since 1966)

It all came together; for it seemed a perfect Christmas card too.

I had to shrink the drawing twice at the zerox place. First shrank it to .70% then shrank the smaller version another .70% That was just the right size when cut out and scotch taped on a new sheet

For some reason, it seems proper to follow that item from the nation's decadent east coast with mention of the fact that Iowa's attorney general has now ruled that gals who "car hop" at Drive-ins must be 16 years old.

We'll have none of that nasty child labor in Iowa, our laws say, which is all right providing Dad remembers girls can't be self supporting until they're 16. Until then they need an allowance.

CORRECTION ON FINE

John F. Nilles of Remsen was fined $15 in mayor's court over the weekend on a charge of improper passing on a yellow line. It was erroneously reported elsewhere in this issue and in the April 28 Floyd Valley Farmers News that the fine was levied against James Nilles, Remsen. Sorry.
